

HUNDREDS DYING IN ALASKA EPIDEMIC

MANY ESKIMOS ARE ATTACKED BY DIPHTHERIA

Serum Being Rushed From Seattle By Rail And Dog Teams

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29.—The diphtheria epidemic which is sweeping Nome, Alaska, may claim hundreds, according to dispatches received here today by Dr. G. M. Magruder, in charge of the United States Public Health service in this district. Five are dead already and hundreds are dying.

There was no indication given in the dispatches as to just the number of persons suffering from the disease.

Dr. Magruder said a large percentage of the afflicted were Eskimos, who, he said, were particularly susceptible to diseases that have scourged the white race.

Arrangements were being completed today by Dr. Magruder to rush one million anti-toxin units to Nome on the steamer Alameda which sails Saturday from Seattle to Seward, Alaska.

From Seward the supplies will have to be shipped overland and Dr. Magruder was trying today to arrange a system of packing to protect the shipment from freezing as it is carried on dogsleds. Efforts to obtain an airplane in Alaska to carry the serum were unsuccessful and it seemed probable the only method of transportation left will be by dog team.

The temperature in this region was reported as being 60 and 70 degrees below zero, according to Dr. Magruder.

Included with the anti-toxin which will weigh from 100 to 200 pounds will be material for the Schick test used to determine persons are immune from diphtheria. These persons will be used to nurse the sick and to carry messages in the stricken northern town.

Dr. Curtis Welch, public health service surgeon, is the only doctor in Nome at present and his strength is being taxed to the utmost by the great demands being made upon him. According to word received by Dr. Magruder, a special health board has been appointed in Nome by Mayor George S. Maynard to carry out the provisions of a strict quarantine.

Every nurse in the town has been pressed into service and volunteer nurses are being asked.

CRUDE OIL TANKS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Toledo, O., Jan. 29.—Fire, which broke out yesterday afternoon at the plant of the Paragon Refining Company here, was believed to be under control this morning.

Seventeen tanks, stills and steamers filled with barrels of crude oil have been destroyed. While company officials were unable to fix the loss definitely, they estimated it would be between $500,000 and $700,000.

SENATORS SUGGEST NAME OF C. C. CRABBE

Senators Frank Willis and S. D. Fess have presented the availability of Attorney General Crabbe of Ohio as Prohibition Commissioner, which leads to the admission that Commissioner Roy Haynes is slated for early retirement, according to Wednesday's dispatches.

Haynes is expected to resign soon after March 4, it is said. Little credence is given the rumor that he is to be succeeded by Senator Sterling, a "lame duck" because Sterling, now in his 75th years, says he does not want the job.

WILL MOVE TRACTION TERMINAL MARCH 1

Postponement of the removal of the Dayton, and Xenia, and Piqua and Dayton traction terminals in the Keith Theatre Building in Dayton to the Giddings Hotel, South Ludlow Street, until March 1, was announced by officials Thursday. The removal was first scheduled for February 1, the date when the lease expires on the present terminal.

The change is being made to aid traffic conditions on Ludlow Street and to unite the general and ticket offices of the company. The general offices are located on the second floor of the hotel.

Mushing Dogs Racing With Death To Bring Medicine

Anchorage, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Mushing dogs raced against death today. Through the Arctic night, with temperatures ranging as low as 58 degrees below zero, champion drivers and their picked dog teams rushed from Nenana, on the Alaska railway to Nome with precious life-giving serum to be used in the battle against diphtheria which is threatening to wipe out the far north town.

A supply of anti-toxin furnished by Dr. J. B. Beeson, former Livingston, Montana, and Seattle, Washington, physician, now in Anchorage, was started from here yesterday to stricken Nome and physicians declared should men and dogs triumph over the frozen trails in the race against dread disease, they would arrive in Nome in time to save many lives.

"Wild Bill" Shannon with nine crack dogs made the first leg of the 1,000 miles journey to Nome in a single mush, covering sixty miles. His time was 12 hours.

Waiting for Shannon at Tolovana was Jim Kalland, another of the north's famous mushers, with a fleet string of dogs and a light Yukon sled.

Kalland will make the second lap of the "death race." The second lap is over a distance of about sixty miles from Hot Springs up the lower Tanana river. Wireless messages sent along the route to Nome brought a generous response today from scores of drivers who wanted to enter the lists for the suffering men, women and children of Nome. They were eager to risk their lives and dogs in the wild ride over the snows.

Reports here showed many communities had been locked in the grip of a bitter storm for the past two weeks. Temperatures ranged around fifty below zero and falling below that in many places.

The greatest danger to the mushers with their life-giving cargo, will be along the lower Yukon river, where Arctic blizzards sweep across a broad stretch of country, including Norton Bay, the spot where many brave men of the trail have passed out in the grip of the "ice gods."

Among the interested watchers of the race was Dr. Beeson, who gave the serum and who was the hero in 1921 of another famous race with death when he rushed anti-toxin to Iditarod.

BREAD GOES UP!

London Jan. 29.—Mounting prices of England's flour and bread supplies were laid at the doors of the "Chicago gamble" today by the London Express. All London newspapers are featuring the spectacular rise of wheat in the Chicago market, which yesterday reached a peak of $2.05 7/8 for the May position.

E. F. Wise, representing the independent labor party, proposes a government food commission which in turn would create a board of control over wheat imports into England.

Snow flurries prevailed throughout the state today.

Light snow is expected tonight.

FIRE DESTROYS ERVIN MILLING PLANT WITH DAMAGE OF $15,000

Spectacular Blaze Endangers Whole Section of City Wednesday Night—Contents Complete Loss— Adjoining Residence Saved.

Fire destroyed the grain elevator and warehouse of The Ervin Milling Company, Whiteman and Leaman Streets, with all contents, early Wednesday night with loss estimated at more than $15,000.

The big frame structure was enveloped in flames within a few minutes after a small blaze was discovered by railroad trainmen in the section reserved for baled hay in the east end of the building. Before firemen arrived the flames had spread to the center of the structure, where the tower furnished a draft.

With the John T. Barnett lumber yard, a number of residences and the factory of the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company, South Detroit Street, endangered by a rain of falling sparks and burning embers, firemen confined their attentions to saving adjoining

On an adjoining house, men with a garden hose, extinguished incipient flames. The superstructure of the elevator building fell within an hour, and firemen began to gain control of the blaze. Burning hay and grain however, constituted a menace all night long. Firemen worked from the time of the start of the blaze about 8 o'clock until 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning and then resumed their work after stopping for breakfast. Although danger had passed Thursday, the remains still smoldered.

Firemen may investigate a theory that the fire was of incendiary origin. C. H. Ervin, head of the milling company which bears his name, has no theory regarding the start of the blaze but does not believe a locomotive was the cause. This is born out by the fact that the first flames were noticed on the inside of the building.

D. E. Martin, Lynn Wilson, Arthur Jones and other trainmen first noticed the light from the fire, which shone through an open door on the east end of the building, and facing the Barnett lumber yard. They investigated and saw the fire burning in baled hay. Martin turned in the fire alarm, but the flames had spread with dazzling speed before firemen arrived.

Trainmen removed all freight cars in the adjoining yards from the zone of the fire. Firemen laid five lines of hose, three of which were used in a constant play on the burning building. Another hose line was used to spray the Fred Ervin home and the house adjoining, while another was played along the eaves of the Barnett lumber yard building. The fact that this structure was brick acted as a bulwark against the flames carrying into the yard, but the eaves constantly caught on fire. A westerly wind also carried sparks away from the lumber yard.

Volunteers who quickly gathered carried all household goods from the Ervin home. Fred Ervin, who has been ill, was at the home of his parents on West Market Street, and was not told of the fire. An asbestos roof aided firemen in keeping the residence from catching but it was so hot that steam enveloped it when it was sprayed with water. Some broken glass in windows and doors, and water damage to ceilings and floors, will constitute loss at the residence.

The blaze was the most spectacular to occur here in years. The flames lighted the scene brightly for more than 100 yards, and the heat was so intense it was impossible to approach close to the burning building. Snow within a radius of fifty yards was melted, and firemen worked at a disadvantage from the heat and smoke. The Barnett building, within twenty feet of one end of the elevator, and in this narrow passage way, firemen did yeoman work. The roofs of the shoe factory and other buildings apparently resisted the sparks that rained on them while the fire was at its height.

Approximately half of the loss on the building and contents will be covered by insurance it is believed by C. H. Ervin, head of the company. The contents included 1,500 bushels of wheat; 500 bushels of corn; 400 bushels of oats; forty tons of mill feed; 150 barrels of flour and 150 tons of baled hay. The building also housed the office of the firm, but books were in the safe, and were covered from it by firemen after the flames were checked. They were not damaged.

The building is the oldest elevator structure in the county, it is believed. It was originally the property of R. M. Smart, and was known for fifty or sixty years as the Smart elevator. Mr. Ervin, who was formerly associated with his brother in the Ervin Bros. Company and later with Herbert Davis, as Ervin Brothers and Davis, acquired the property about ten years ago. It was of all frame construction, and proved a ready target for the flames.

It is estimated that a crowd of more than 1,000 was attracted to the scene. Many of these volunteered in the work of stripping the Fred Ervin home of every vestige of household equipment. Police took charge of the furnishings in a yard across the street, and after the fire had subsided Patrolman Charles Simms and Ed Craig, marshalled volunteers who replaced all the furniture in the house. This was possible at 9:30 o'clock as the flames had passed their dangerous stage when the building collapsed.

TRAINING FOR WAR VETERANS EXPIRES SOON

Thirty Thousand Will Be In Schools When Books Close

Washington, Jan. 29.—Government training of veterans of the world war, whose wounds or disabilities incapacitated them for prewar occupations, is drawing rapidly to a close.

The United States Veterans bureau announced today that by June 30, the last day upon which ex-soldiers may enter vocational training, approximately 30,000 men will be under instruction. All trainees must complete their course by June 30, 1926.

The government has spent $591,494,000 in the training of ex-soldiers, at an average cost of $6,300 for each man.

At 31,000 veterans were in government and private schools and under training in industrial and commercial plants today.

A comparatively small number will be accepted for training prior to June 30, while nearly half of the present trainees will be rehabilitated in the next five months, according to the veterans bureau.

Trainees have been instructed in more than 400 vocations; about half of them studied in the industrial trades while from 7,000 to 8,000 studied law, medicine or other professional work.

Veterans bureau officials estimated that less than ten per cent of the veterans who applied for training were illiterate at their discharge from the army. A large number of the illiterates have been furnished the rudiments of a common school education by the government.

The number of men in training has been declining rapidly since the peak of 109,000 in April, 1922. A comparatively few men will be in training when the system is abolished in June 1926, officials said.

Veterans bureau officials said that no men will be accepted for training prior to June who did not have applications for training or compensation before June 30, 1923. Those whose applications were rejected still have an opportunity to obtain a re-opening of their cases.

Appeals, it was stated, will be acted upon promptly.

Reports to Director Frank T. Hines indicated that the rehabilitated, ex-servicemen who came out of the war partially disabled and virtually a drug on the labor market has "come back" and has established himself as a firm cog in the commercial and industrial machinery of the nation.

Few rehabilitated men have failed to make good. Employment conditions among the rehabilitated ex-soldier were described as far better than a year ago.

JIMMY O'CONNELL WILL NOT TESTIFY IN BASEBALL PROBE

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, the Giant outfielder, intends to spend many months in California's golden sunshine his attorney Joseph McInerney, announced here today.

Jimmy O'Connell has been refused the immunity he demanded by the New York district attorney and therefore will not go East to testify in the probe of the alleged attempt to bribe Heinie Sand, Phillies infielder, said McInerney. "Get Cozy Dolan to talk and then you can get all the higher ups and all the boys in this affair. We don't blame Judge Landis. He did all he could in his investigation and was without authority to go further but the district attorney can go further and make a real investigation."

"However O'Connell has no intention of testifying unless a genuine investigation is assured and unless he is promised immunity."

McInerney said in response to a question that O'Connell has nothing new to tell. He said if the outfielder went to New York he would relate the same story he did in his "confession." O'Connell was hiding at the home of relatives near here today.

TRAINING CAMP ACT BEING CONSIDERED

Washington, Jan. 29.—Whether 29,000 or 35,000 men are trained in the reserve officers training camp in 1926 depends on the action the senate takes on the reserve officers bill now under consideration.

Under the budget estimate $2,300,000 was recommended for training camp activities, but the house, in passing the bill added an amendment which increased the appropriation to $2,807,471. The senate committee on military affairs has also approved the increase but final action has not been taken by the senate.

Will Speed Plans For State House

Beaten by Policeman in Hotel Room.

Miss "Billee" Rogers, of Chicago, was reported to the police there that a uniformed policeman, accompanied by a civilian, came to her room in a Loop hotel, where the policeman asked the man if she was the woman who had robbed him. When the man replied in the negative, she alleged, the policeman beat her brutally.

DONAHEY WILL NOT SEEK THIRD TERM HE SAYS AT DINNER

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—That Governor Donahey intends to retire from Ohio governorship at the end of his present term and that the Democratic party will probably utilize the tariff as a prominent issue in the presidential campaign of 1928, is the information broadcast today. This information featured the annual Jackson Day dinner, held by the Franklin County Democratic club at Hotel Deshler here Wednesday night.

Addressing the banquet, the governor voiced his intention of refusing to be a third time candidate for the governorship. Other speakers included U. S. Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi, former Lieutenant Governor Nichols, Batavia; Mrs. Carroll Miller, Pittsburgh; Congressman Brooks Fletcher, Marion and Claude Meeker, Columbus, toastmaster. Vigorous attacks upon the G. O. P. Republican tariff were launched by Senator Harrison and Mrs. Miller.

Reverence was paid to memories of late President Woodrow Wilson and former Governor James E. Campbell. Mention of the name of former Governor Cox repeatedly elicited applause. Governor Donahey received an ovation.

Characterizing the tariff as a cancerous sore that eats away commercial and industrial freedom, Senator Harrison declared it constitutes the keystone upon which rests a moneyed aristocracy that gouges the unsuspecting public.

"Our trouble today is not that the majority of the American people believe in the principles of a protective tariff—in subsidies to special interest or in tax reform that relieves wealth disproportionately of its fair burden of taxation—but the Republican party has sold its materialistic theories to the country and the public, is at this time, deluded and deceived," Harrison declared.

ARCHITECT MAY OFFER PLAN FOR NEW BUILDING

Gas Tax Opposed—Disorder Occurs When Bible Act Is Attacked

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—Plans for speeding up action relative to the proposed new state office building are expected to be made today when the senate committee on state buildings resumes discussion of the resolution of Senator Vorys, Franklin County, providing for creation of legislative committee to work in co-operation with the state buildings commission in arranging for erection of an office building contiguous to the state house.

An architect of national reputation reported by State Auditor Tracy to have interested himself in the project "from the standpoint of art alone, and may propose two plans, one for erection of the building on the state house grounds and the other on a site nearby. The architect was not named.

Fate of the proposed two cent a gallon tax on gasoline for motor vehicles will be decided next Tuesday night by the house motor vehicles committee. Motor bus operators, represented by Frank C. Smith, president of the state association of commercial haulers, says they would oppose the bill unless the legislature reduced the state auto license taxes to a flat $3 rate, and fixes a fee of fifty cents per 100 pounds on commercial vehicles. Advocates of the measure said the proposed tax would relieve farmers of the burden of the cost of road construction.

J. F. Atwood, Columbus, representing the Ohio Automobile Association, urged enactment of a flat state auto license fee in addition to the gas tax. Creation of a state bureau of motor vehicles, headed by a commissioner in the secretary of state's office, and enactment of a code regulating operation of motor vehicles is to be proposed to the legislature in a bill now being drafted by Representative Lippe, Hamilton county. The bill will propose that license fees be distributed through county auditors, deputy registrars or auto clubs.

Hisses which greeted a speaker in opposition to the bill providing for compulsory reading of the Bible in public schools drew threats to clear the room from members of the house school committee at a hearing on the bill Wednesday night. The bill is said to be backed by the Ku Klux Klan and farm organizations.

The interruption came when the Rev. H. Maxwell Hall Marietta, was opposing the measure. He told committee members of the co-operation of a Catholic priest in making successful the week day religious system now being conducted in many schools, and warned that passage of the bill would destroy this system. His statements were greeted with hisses.

Representative Orton, Williams county, demanded that the sergeant at arms be brought into clear the room if the disturbance continued. Mrs. C. J. Ott, Youngstown, seconded his motion. The hearing, however, proceeded without further trouble. Another public hearing will be given Wednesday night.

Pending identification, Williamson's body is at Denton, Donaldson and Hughes undertaking parlors. Miltzer was being held at city prison for investigation.

NEW MINE WORKERS' ASSOCIATION WILL HARMONIZE INDUSTRY DECLARES LEADER

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 29.—Form methods will be akin to those of the first time in the twenty-five year old struggle between miners' unions and non-union coal operators in West Virginia, an organization has been born that will harmonize the state's basic industry by affecting wage agreements satisfactory to all concerned.

This statement came from Thomas Cairns, president of the newly-launched Mine Workers Association in an interview with International News Service today relative to the purposes of his organization.

Coal operators, who for a quarter of a century have stoutly resisted efforts of the United Mine Workers of America to unionize the bituminous fields of West Virginia, have been sounded out on the proposal of dealing with the new organization and have expressed themselves in hearty sympathy with it, Cairns declared.

"Our primary object will be to organize the men in the non-union coal fields along lines similar to those of the United Mine Workers and our S. O. S. CALL HEARD, AID AT HAND. Are you 'Cross Word Puzzle Crazy?' Cheer up, brave heart, cheer up. It's going to be an easier life for you from now on.

DOLAN GOES BEFORE DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN SCANDAL PROBE

New York, Jan. 29.—Albert "Cozy" Dolan, debarred coach of the New York Giants, suddenly appeared on the scene of the baseball scandal investigation today and went before Assistant District Attorney George Brothers for questioning. Dolan, with Jimmy O'Connell, New York Giants outfielder, was declared ineligible by Baseball Commissioner Landis, following the attempt of O'Connell to bribe Heinie Sand, of the Philadelphia club to "bear down" in a game with the Giants last September.

The building is the oldest elevator structure in the county, it is believed. It was originally the property of R. M. Smart, and was known for fifty or sixty years as the Smart elevator. Mr. Ervin, who was formerly associated with his brother in the Ervin Bros. Company and later with Herbert Davis, as Ervin Brothers and Davis, acquired the property about ten years ago. CENTRAL AVENGES LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT BY BEATING MORAINE PARK HIGH FIVE 30 TO 25

BY L. J. WONES

Central High school basketball team avenged the defeat handed it by Moraine Park High School basketball team last season when on Wednesday afternoon Ballantyne's cohorts journeyed to Moraine City and trampled on the team of that place by a 30 to 25 count.

The game was one of the best played by the big blue team this season. It was sensational from start to finish with first one team and then the other in front. Central displayed poor form in the first quarter but as the game grew older, improved.

Rutan was the high light of the game with fourteen points. He had to leave the game in the last minute on account of personal fouls but his three buckets in the last period won for Central. Perrine played well and was in practically every play. He kicked in with a quartet of ringers and also added a foul. Holton made one ringer and a foul while Huston and Buell made one apiece from the field. Towles was the only man not to score for Central but he only played about a minute.

Kettering, left forward for Moraine, was the whole works for his five. He scored seven times from the field for a total of fourteen points. Bosler played well and got a pair of felders and one foul. Moraine put up a tight defense in the first half and Central had difficulty in solving it.

Moraine started with a rush when Kettering and Bosler scored from the field soon after the toss up at center. Perrine put his team in the running with a short one and his feat was duplicated by Kettering a few moments later giving Moraine a 6 to 2 lead. The teams then battled hard and Perrine made another fielder a few seconds before the whistle blew ending the quarter. Central was trailing by a 6 to 4 score.

Kettering again started the fireworks with a long one. Central finally staged a rally and Perrine dropped in a short one while Rutan got two and Holton looped in a long one putting his team in the lead by a 12 to 8 score. Kettering fouled Rutan and he added two more points to Central's score. Huston fouled Bosler who made one of the free throws. Kettering got a long one as the half ended with Central in front by a 14 to 11 score.

Moraine started the third quarter with a rush and baskets by Bosler and Kettering put their five in front with a three point lead. Perrine and Huston made long ones giving them a one point lead. Rutan tossed two fouls. Johnson and DeGraw also made good on fouls. Kettering sunk a short one putting Moraine in the lead by a 21 to 20 score at the close of the third period.

Central showed excellent form in the last period and scored ten points while they held their opponents to one lone field goal and a pair of fouls. Buell started Central's rally when he made a beautiful long shot from the center of the floor. This seemed to be the starting signal for the locals and Rutan dropped in two. Heathman made a foul. Rutan caged another long one and Perrine added a foul. Heathman scored from the field while Johnson tossed one from the charity line and Holton duplicate this feat as the game ended.

Central will journey to Middletown Friday night where they will encounter the Middlebs of that place.

When you clasp your hands with fingers interlocking, do you put your left thumb up? If you do you are left-handed. At least you are naturally so disposed even though you may use your right hand for writing and other manual operations. Prof. June E. Downey of the University of Wyoming in a paper presented before the American Psychological Association, said that fewer people are naturally right-handed than we generally suppose, and that a large number of people who use their right hand habitually do it as a result of early training rather than any instinctive tendency.

Professor Downey has made a study of the distribution of right and left-handedness, or dextrality and sinistrality to use the technical names, and she finds that each exists in varying degrees. To some people, the distinction between right and left seems as natural as between up and down, while others report that they learned the distinction of children with the greatest difficulty. Even in adult life there are many people who find it difficult to quickly distinguish between right and left, as, for example, when driving a motor car.

Another interesting fact brought out by Professor Downey's work is that more men than women are left-handed. However, this seems to be due to the fact that strong right-handedness and left-handedness are more common among men than women, and that women are more inclined to be ambidextrous, or able to use either hand at will.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

INVESTMENT TRUSTS DIVERSIFY

In order to obtain safety through wide diversification, English financiers worked out the investment trust: this type of investment opportunity is now in America.

The English investment trusts have long been used by the small investor as a safe form of investment for his funds. Shares or bonds are sold on as low as $10 (two pound) payments. The funds gathered in this way are invested in a great variety of securities by the skilled investment men of the investment trust.

Each share held in the investment trust represents a fractional shareholding in all of the many, many other enterprises in which the investment trust has reinvested the money.

The Metropolitan Trust Co., Ltd. of London, a concern of this type, had 230 separate sorts of investment a few years ago. This number is undoubtedly greater today. These investments are international in scope and cover every line in the investment field.

PARENTS MUST BE BETTER HEAD OF STATE P. T. A. TELLS 400 DELEGATES AT DISTRICT MEET HERE THURSDAY

Special Cars Bring Visitors To Sessions at Central High School—Only Four Men In Crowd—Last Session Thursday Night

BY ALICE FOLEY

Four hundred delegates had gathered by 12 o'clock at the annual conference of the Southwest District of Parents and Teachers at Central High School, Thursday.

The delegations included 200 members of Parent-Teacher and community organizations in Montgomery and 125 women from Hamilton County. Three special cars brought the Montgomery County delegates, from districts around Dayton on the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia electric line.

Much time was exhausted during the morning session while the delegates registered and reported to Mrs. A. J. Barnett, Dayton district director, who presided over the meeting.

Counties included in the district were called alphabetically and one member from each county gave a brief report of the program of the organization in that district.

A short talk by Mrs. J. G. Ruff, state Parent-Teacher Association president, was the main feature of the morning session. Mrs. Ruff declared the Xenia meeting to be the largest district P. T. A. conference she had ever attended in Ohio.

She expressed the belief that people are becoming more interested in associations bringing about co-operation between the home and the school. "The Parent-Teacher organization work is a vital thing," she declared. "I believe that before ten years it will be the largest organization in the United States of its type."

Parent-Teacher associations have been organized in forty six states, Mrs. Ruff said and she gave a brief history of the growth of the organization since its birth in 1897, as the first child welfare organization.

"The national P. T. A. has always sponsored all child-welfare legislation in the past twenty-eight years," Mrs. Ruff told her hearers. "It is a wonderful privilege to belong to the P. T. A. and to be affiliated with the state and national organizations. We must be international and associations have been formed in the far corners of the world, including Alaska, Korea, Japan and the Philippines."

"American parents are awakening to the fact that they must be better parents," declared Mrs. Ruff. "Parents don't mean to say 'no' and 'don't' but it is the easiest way—they just don't know any better."

"Courses are being given in schools over the country where Parent-Teacher work is being taught and credited to the students who enroll for an education along this line."

"Teachers have had education to help them in their work but the parents have not and they must have to bring about the right degree of co-operation and understanding," she said.

"One of the big points of our organization is to study together to bring about better conditions in the home, school and community. And first of all, a better generation of children."

The morning session closed with the reports of the district treasurer and secretary. Mrs. F. J. Unshelm, Cincinnati, state treasurer, with Mrs.

Ruff, was one of the state officers present at the session.

Mrs. E. H. Bierbaum, Dayton led the assembly in singing the Ohio Parent-Teacher Association song.

The heavy snow storm that tied up traffic over the district, did not halt the women in their trip to Xenia. Of the vast audience, the faces of only four men could be seen.

"Where little children are concerned, women are always out," was the explanation given by one P. T. A. worker, in explaining the interest of the women in the meeting.

FORMER GREENE COUNTIAN IS DEAD

Word was received Thursday by Xenia relatives of the death of Melville Davis, 63, retired farmer, and former resident of the Union neighborhood, who died at his home in Warren, O., Wednesday evening after a brief illness.

Mr. Davis was employed in the public schools at Warren. He is survived by three daughters, two of whom are married, one son, all of Warren, and one nephew.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Warren Saturday afternoon with interment in Warren Cemetery.

TAG SALE SLOW-CLUB DROPS ROOM LEASE

With the big rush for the new 1925 auto tags at an end, the Greene County Auto Club has cancelled the lease on a room in the Hotel Regal, acquired early in January to take care of applicants.

Provision was made at the Hotel Regal to take care of motorists that are non-members of the club, but now all motorists regardless of the affiliations with the club, may get the tags at the club rooms.

Sale of the tags is somewhat slow and nearly 1,300 of the 1925 plates have not yet been disposed of the initial consignment of 4,600.

But three or four motorcycle tags have been purchased and twice that number of auto trailers.

Relief

For pain—quick

The worst pains people suffer can be relieved at once. Rheumatic pain, soreness, backache, cold in chest, etc.

Rub the sore spot with red pepper. Nothing else supplies such concentrated, quick penetrating heat. And heat that doesn't hurt.

You feel it instantly. In three minutes that heat penetrates to the depths. Circulation starts, "congestion" is relieved. The pain and the soreness depart.

People used to use plasters mustard and liniments. But modern science has found a better way, a quicker, more efficient way, a way without objections.

Don't suffer pains which Red Pepper Rub relieves almost at once. Don't let cold in the chest go neglected. Have this rub at hand—get now. The time will come when its quick relief will mean much to someone in your home.

Red Pepper is saving millions of painful hours. Let it save them for you and yours.

sociation of Master Plumbers, which co-operating with government officials at Washington, D. C., brought about these reductions, it was stated. Reynolds declared that these reductions constituted "a matter of vital importance to every home-builder and home-owner as it means that when new supplies are needed and repairs are required, the work can be done at a greatly reduced cost to the property-owner."

"I was slow in developing, became very nervous, was bilious and had dizzy sick-headaches. I was in a rundown, weakened condition. My mother gave me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it built me up in health, strengthened my nerves and I developed into womanhood naturally and had no more trouble. PAINFUL RHEUMATIC SWELLINGS DISAPPEAR

Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenrhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENRHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Sohn's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENRHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

COLLINS AND HARLAN, AMERICA'S FAVORITE ENTERTAINERS, COMING TO XENIA.

Announcement is made that those amusing singers, Collins and Harlan, are scheduled for a concert in Xenia on the night of February 5th.

Collins and Harlan have earned the reputation of being America's favorite entertainers, because of their astonishing repertoire of humorous song.

Neither Arthur Collins nor Byron G. Harlan started out to enter their career! Mr. Collins was going to be an actor. What if his ancestors were all Quakers? That was nothing compared with the longing to make his appearance behind the footlights.

So he left his home in Philadelphia and journeyed to New York—just as they all do. And then he became a successful opera singer, and got a real job with De Wolf Hopper in "Wang." Mr. Collins also appeared in "The Lion Tamer" with Francis Wilson.

It was after that, that he met with Byron G. Harlan and the two decided to combine their talents.

Mr. Harlan is one of those famous people from Kansas. Nearly all the celebrities there are, came from Kansas once upon a time. But Mr. Harlan's family early emigrated to South Dakota, where his boyhood was passed. Unlike Mr. Collins, Byron Harlan never meant to be an actor at all. But he did have a beautiful voice and he decided to go to the great city and cultivate it. In this case the great city was Chicago. And here Mr. Harlan began his stage career with an engagement in an opera company. After that he appeared in "A Texas Steer." Having seen the inside working of a theatre, and having also met Mr. Arthur Collins, Harlan decided he had had enough of being "just an actor."

So he started a company of his own and became a producer himself. The Geyer Book Shop is issuing complimentary tickets to this recital which may be secured at Geyer Book Shop.

SNOW

Two men in Cincinnati Tuesday to attend a convention, revealed in the snow that fell that day.

These men were outside constantly during the snow fall, threw now balls at each other and cavorted like children. A humorist has written that if you still like snow you are alive and are not ready for a Florida winter.

But these men were from Florida. That state of balmy breezes is their home—the place where they make their livelihood. Until Friday they had never seen a real snowfall, and it was the first time they had ever had the opportunity to enjoy the delights of snowballing that are common to every Northern child.

And this may prove the state of never being satisfied that is a part of every man. It is the cause of ambition, industry, commerce, and art and inspires men to greater deeds and more successful accomplishments. And it also supplies that peculiar situation that makes the Northerner long for a warm climate in the winter and the Southerner delight in a snowballing spree in the North.

Snow here has come to be so commonplace an affair, that the average adult only looks upon it as an annoying precipitation that has to be shoveled off the sidewalks but the sight of two Southerners enjoying a snow storm, might cause us to look at the "beautiful" with a proprietary air of proud possessorship.

BIRDS

Feeding of birds at this time of year is a noble action conceived in a kind heart.

While snow covers the ground, birds are unable to provide for themselves, in spite of their natural industry. Unless they can find scraps on top of the snow, they may starve before the snow passes.

This is not only true of the birds that remain north during the winter but of the early spring birds, that come early to herald the coming of summer.

A few crumbs tossed where the birds can get at them will help to keep these most welcome visitors.

WE WONDER—

"Philosophy," said Plato, "is the child of wonder." So is all scientific progress. Wonder leads us far afield. We observe. We draw conclusions. We act in accordance with our new knowledge. Columbus wondered what lay to the west and discovered the new world. Newton wondered about the fall of the apple and worked out the theory of gravitation. Franklin wondered about the lightning and found electricity in the clouds. Darwin wondered about the forms of life he discovered in the Gallapagos Islands and was led to the proof of the evolutionary hypothesis.

Last Saturday hundreds of astronomers were engaged in observing and photographing the phenomenon of the eclipse. They hope from their work, especially on the corona of the sun, to get further light on the mysteries of that source of all physical life on the earth.

Of what practical value? Perhaps none. Perhaps very great. We never can know in advance. All we know is that human nature, incurably curious, is driven by an inner urge to seek all possible information in its ceaseless quest to solve the riddles of existence.—Kansas City Star.

BETTER LEAVE IT IN THE BOX

A cable says: "London scientists are mystified by a new form of energy concealed in a sealed box." It may be nothing more than a slab of Limburger cheese.—Marion, Ohio, Star.

NOBODY KNOWS BETTER THAN "PA"

"Ma" Ferguson declares she will take no official orders from her husband, while governor and, if she's like most wives, we believe her.—Martins Ferry, Ohio, Times.

SHOULD HANG THESE IN THE MEDICINE CASE

A new color for women's hose is "arnica." Must be hockey hose.—Bellefontaine, Ohio, Examiner.

HE'LL HAVE TO BUY HIS OWN POLICE GAZETTE, TOO.

A St. Louis report says that men are buying more hats, probably because it's so hard for a man to get his hair cut.—Urbana, Ohio, Democrat.

MONUMENTAL DAYS

Some days are sweet with laughter rare,
Some days are shadowed o'er with care,
Some days indifferently glide
Upon life's ever moving tide
And leave no tokens of their birth
Or passing from this lovely earth,
Yet all that come with smiles or tears
Make up the total of our years.

Some days will never pass away,
We cherish still our wedding day,
And mark it as the happiest one
Of all that since have come and gone;
And there's that day of wondrous grace
We purchased that first little place,
Which proudly we could call our own,
How many years since then have flown!

Then there's the day our child was born,
We've kept the glory of that morn
As bright and fresh along life's way
As though it were but yesterday;
And following that a time of grief,
Which tried but strengthened our belief,
How dearly cherished we have kept
That day of days, when first we wept!

These mark our passing through the years—
Our monuments of smiles and tears—
The highest peak to which we've been,
With all the days which lie between;
And thus we see our lives are told,
But these few memories we hold.

And learn that splendors come to men
Not day by day, but now and then.

Through correspondence with my readers I find that many women are puzzled about the question of cleaning their furniture. I therefore believe the following suggestions will be found helpful:

To Clean Carved Furniture: A painter's brush with long bristles will remove the dust from the crevices (so will a bellows or a vacuum blower). Wipe the surface carving with a soft cloth wrung out of warm suds of whiter soap, then let dry. Now mix together equal parts of paraffin oil and turpentine and dip your long bristled painter's brush into this mixture. Do not wet more than just the tips of the bristles, however; also remove the surplus moisture from the bristles by squeezing the tips of the brush for an instant with a piece of cloth. Go over the carved portion with this and treat the plain surfaces of the carving with a piece of cheesecloth which is moistened with the same turpentine-oil mixture. Finish by polishing with a piece of clean flannel.

To Clean Dull-Finished Walnut or Oak: Make a suds with tepid water and white naphtha soap. Go over only a small portion of the furniture at a time with a soft cloth dipped in this suds and rub dry with flannel before proceeding to the next place. Finish by applying any high-grade furniture polish on a clean piece of soft flannel, rubbing it in till the wood no longer feels greasy to the touch. (Note: Do not ask me to recommend brands of furniture polish through this column as I am not allowed to mention trade-names for advertising reasons. Your local hardware store will be able to advise you.)

To Clean Rattan, Reed or Willow Furniture: Remove dust by blowing with a bicycle pump, a bellows, or the blower attachment of the vacuum cleaner. If the piece of furniture has a "natural" finish wash it with warm soapsuds containing one teaspoon of borax to the quart, applying this with a scrubbing brush. If, however, the piece is stained or painted you must use the method given below:

To Clean Shellaced, Varnished, Painted or Oil-Stained Furniture: These finishes require the application of a little equally mixed turpentine and linseed oil or some liquid wax.

To Clean Mahogany: When covered with finger-marks or with that bluish, cloudy appearance known as "bloom," go over the wood with a piece of fine cheesecloth moistened slightly with a good furniture polish or wrung from warm water which contains one tablespoon each of turpentine and linseed oil. Thin, dry, wispy or fading hair is quickly invigorated, taking a new strength, color and youthful sauty. "Danderine" is a delightful tonic—not sticky or greasy! Any drugstore.

35-cent "Danderine" does wonders for lifeless, neglected hair. A gleamy mass.

COLOR

I like the psychologists for one good reason anyway, they get people to thinking on topics that they ought to think about.

I have been very much interested in studying the things they say about color and its effect on the mind and human disposition.

Take a flower garden, for instance. Who isn't at once lifted in spirit the minute that these little children of the soil offer their smiles of color and cheerfulness. How mutely they appeal!

An oriental rug, a rare tapestry, a painting into which the artist has put his soul, as well as the touches from his fingers and brush. How color warms the heart and takes away the rough edges of our all too uneven dispositions.

Reds, blues, greens, purples, crimsons, and the various different hues that make up our color scheme, how they melt into our daily lives if we only stop long enough to appreciate them and to notice how they are blended into everything of use and ornament.

Poiet once said that a man's tie should be the color of his soul. That would be fine if we could only discover just what color soul each of us has. As a matter of fact, however, I believe that our soul absorbs the colors we love most. If we love beauty greatly we are sure to have a highly colored and beautiful soul.

There should be more color in the places where people work. Offices should be full of color. Cities should have more color to their buildings and more flowers and gardens where ever possible.

It is good that women are such lovers of color. How exquisite they look in their gowns of flowered designs.

God should be thanked every day for the beautiful colors He has put into this earth. Just consider the rare and unusual colors to be found in all the precious and semi-precious stones, in the flowers, the coats of wild birds, in the sunsets.

Put more color into your home and into your heart. For we really see and love color from the heart!

SERVICE RESTORED AFTER FIRE; FIRM RESUMES BUSINESS

Telegraph and telephone communication with Columbus, destroyed when wires fell adjacent to the Ervin Milling Company elevator, destroyed by fire Wednesday night, was restored early Thursday.

Telephone and telegraph poles along the Pennsylvania Railroad, were burned by the fire and a number of wires were down, cutting off communication with Columbus. Train dispatchers managed to notify eastern points before the wires went down, and trains did not pass while the blaze was burning its greatest. Later trains passed the scene under a slow order.

C. H. Ervin, head of the milling company, announced Thursday the company would carry on "business as usual" at the uptown office and feed store of the company. He has not announced whether the elevator and warehouse will be rebuilt.

KINGDOM PLAN AND FAMILY PLAN EXPLAINED BY EVANGELIST IN SERMON ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The observance of "Family Night" at the special revival services at the First Methodist Church Wednesday evening was a great success. The auditorium was filled. Mr. Stillings was at his best in leading the singing, which was a special feature of the service.

Among the delegations was a Sunday School Class of young women of Trinity Church, whose presence added much to the enthusiasm of the meeting. Dr. Birney had offered a prize to the youngest member of the largest family tribe present. This consisted of the little booklet "The Syrian Guest." A canvass showed that Lois Jeanette Bradley, of Trinity Church, was the youngest member of the Bradley family, of whom eight were present. She came forward and received her reward. The same kind of a prize was offered to the youngest child present, which was presented to Billy Edward Meahl, about two years old. His parents brought him forward and he received his prize.

One feature of the meeting was the holding of family prayers at the close of the evangelist's message, which was full of earnest appeal. Nearly every one in the large crowd moved forward to the front to join in the family prayers, which were offered by Dr. V. F. Brown and Dr. F. W. Stanton, the pastors of the two churches.

Rev. Joseph Shepard, formerly a resident of Xenia, now pastor of the Methodist Church in Antwerp, was a visitor and led earnestly in the opening prayer.

The afternoon meeting was largely attended. Dr. Birney spoke upon "The Holy Spirit—And the Empowered Church." The message produced a profound impression, and many went away to live better lives.

"The Family Name of God" was the striking theme which Evangelist Geo. Hugh Birney, used at the evening service, brought from the text: "Go ye—Baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."—Matt. 28:19.

"This text has been used," he said, "with large emphasis upon its foreign missionary appeal, but, in point of fact, it is also the great evangelistic text of the New Testament. It tells us what we are to do, beginning first of all in Jerusalem, then in Judea and Samaria and then unto the uttermost part of the earth. Just now Xenia is our Jerusalem, our home town, our first obligation. Evangelism begins at home. It is first of all a family task. There is something the matter with the zeal that prays and toils for the heathen in China, which does not also seek the heathen next door. Our home altars must burn with a warmth sufficient to attract our own loved ones, else their light will never reach beyond the seas.

"There are two ideas which parallel each other throughout the whole New Testament. One is the Kingdom Plan, while the other is the Family Plan, and they are both essential parts of God's whole plan of redemption, and can never be separated. A false emphasis upon either will throw the whole plan out of gear, and we see the spectacle today of many who think only in terms of the Kingdom plan. They forget that Christ taught that only those who have first become members of God's Family can ever see the Kingdom. First the family; then the Kingdom. The New Birth is the door of entrance into the privileges and blessings of Kingdom service, without which no human soul can enter the Kingdom. We enter as the Sons of God. "Except one be born anew, he cannot see the Kingdom of God."—John 3:3.

"Are we members of the Family of God, and have we received the Spirit of adoption whereby we cry, 'Abba Father.' Some of us have had human fathers so loving and kind and true, that their examples have made it easy for us to look above their human attributes and behold our Heavenly Father. But the Holy Spirit will reveal Him to all who believe, in all His wonder and majesty and power and glory, yet at the same time, as our tender, loving, forgiving, and Heavenly Father. Have you found Him like that? Is He real to you tonight, as real, and more so, than ever your earthly father has been to you?

"The Trinity has been made a great mystery, for it is difficult for us to understand how three persons can be one in three and three in one. But when we think of the Trinity in terms of the Family of God much of the mystery disappears. We know the human trinity—the father, the mother and the child. This is the triangle of life itself. Let us think of the Holy Spirit in this relationship, and reverently understand that, as God first revealed Himself as Father, then as Son, He has now revealed Himself in all His maternal nature as The Holy Spirit. The blessed Holy Spirit gathers up and expresses every maternal element in the Godhead.

Evangelist Birney will speak Thursday night upon the theme "The Tragedy of the Empty House." It is announced as visitor's night, and delegations from over the County are expected at the service.

Program for Friday—2:30 "The Holy Spirit—And The Continuous Revival." 7:30—"The Music Of The Angels." Young People's Night."

SAYS-NOW STIFF JOINTS MUST GO!

Joint-Ease they call this wonder working substance, for the reason that when ordinary remedies fail to limber up the stiff, inflamed rheumatic joint, or reduce the swelling, Joint-Ease succeeds.

It's a good name for a good, clean, penetrating prescription that in just a few months has proven to a multitude of people that lame, swollen, distorted joints can speedily have the kinks taken out of them and work as smoothly as ever.

But Joint-Ease is for both: some joints, whether knee, ankle, hip, shoulder, spine or finger, and for that purpose its sale is immense.

Sohn's Drug Store and Druggists everywhere report a big demand.

Always remember, when Joint-Ease gets in joint agony gets out—quick.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

THE ORIGIN OF ROAST PIG

For a thousand years or more the Chinese people raised pigs for pets. One day Bo-Bo, a great lubberly Chinese boy, as yellow as the yolk of an egg, was smoking corn silks behind his father's barn. Before he knew it the strawstack was on fire and a sow and nine pigs were terribly scorched.

Poor Bo-Bo ran for a river, but he was stopped by one of the pigs running up his trousers leg. He pulled it out and in doing so, scorched his hands. He put his fingers to his mouth to soothe them. My, how fine the burnt pig tasted. He then ran about the lot trying to get the other pigs to run up his trousers legs.

Soon Bo-Bo's father came running up and noticed how the hair was burned from his son's head, except a small patch on the top. He liked it so well that he had his cut after the same fashion, and soon all China was wearing pig tails.

"Oh, father, the swine-the pet swine! Look out, there comes the old sow after you." And before the father could turn around the old mother pig had her nose up his pants leg. He pulled her away and wads of burning flesh stuck to his palms. Of course he placed his fingers in his mouth. The flesh tasted so fine that he sang for joy. He and the boy then chased the pigs around trying to get them up their trousers legs.

Word went over China about the pig meat being food to eat and soon strawstacks all over China were being burned down. Trouser legs were being made larger to accommodate the pigs. A group of American sailors on furlough in China at that time heard of it and had their trouser bottoms enlarged. And sailors wear them that way to this day.

People finally got wise to the fact that they didn't have to burn down a strawstack to cook a pig. Then the stove came into its own.

CARPENTERS' NEW UNION ATTACKED

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29-A resolution was adopted by central labor council Tuesday night denouncing the new international union of building trade carpenters, which was organized at Cincinnati last Saturday. The new union was formed as the result of a long drawn controversy, still being waged between the carpenters and joiners union and the sheet metal workers as to which should set metal and window door frames. This jurisdictional dispute has held up many jobs for nearly a year.

YESTERDAY'S JUNIOR PUZZLE ANSWER

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Husband Tamer by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband. ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLVII—A STRANGE MEETING.

"I THINK you ought to know," Patricia confided to Clayton Gillespie across the massive desk in his New York office which he hadn't graced for many months. "That I have been deceiving you all along. I'm not a widow. I'm not even divorced. My husband is living and I saw him only a few days ago."

VIOLET DARE

"And you are still in love with him?" Gillespie asked, reaching over to pat her hand and betraying no surprise. "How did you know?" gasped Patricia.

"Old people have a way of seeing things," he assured her. "Don't worry about your harmless little lies to me. You must have worries enough. Tell me about your husband. Are things going any better now?"

"Worse," Patricia assured him ruefully.

"Then we must do something at once. It isn't right for you young people to spend the best years of your life in petty squabbling. Put on your prettiest frock and come to dine with me tonight at the Plaza. Perhaps I can think of a plan by that time."

Patricia smiled at him gratefully and a little tolerantly. Old people were so apt to think that they could fix everything.

But when she arrived at his apartment at the Plaza and saw the table set for three in the glow of the open fireplace; saw the great bunch of orchids and smilax that trailed across the table hiding the ugly and uncompanionable expanse in the middle, she admitted to herself that he must have some very special plan in mind.

"And who is our other guest?" she asked eagerly as Gillespie came forward to greet her.

"She," he cautioned her mysteriously. "Go in the other room and wait until he has arrived. You must be the last to come. After he has been here a few minutes, you can come out of the hall door and make your entrance all over again. Here take your wrap."

Amused by his elaborate plans—whatever they were—she went into the next room, but as she was idly powdering her nose her attention was arrested by a voice in the next room—Andrew's voice. Her heart thumped and for a moment she thought she would run away. But finally she mustered her courage and went toward the door.

"All of my philanthropic interests are now in her hands," Gillespie was saying as his manservant preceded her into the room. "But I thought you might advise her about some young lawyer who could take over the details of the work. Possibly you might even undertake it yourself—" His voice trailed off, as the men turned to greet her.

"Oh, you know each other, of course. How stupid of me. Then let us get right down to business and get it over with before dinner. Will you explain, my dear, what we are trying to do and how much we need a lawyer to advise us? I have just asked Mr. Cleve to suggest some one to take over the work, that is if he feels that he does not care to undertake it himself."

Flushing to the roots of her hair, Patricia began. Then gaining courage by the sound of her voice and the sympathetic presence of Gillespie, her self-consciousness left her and she found herself describing quite gaily the duties of trusteeship in so many organizations.

As she glanced over at Andrew, perfectly-poised and perfectly self-possessed in this odd situation, Patricia couldn't help feeling proud of him. He was so dignified, so aloof.

He listened to her intently and then put her off with few gracious phrases. It would take him a few days to decide and then he would communicate with her and Mr. Gillespie.

The dinner that followed sounded, as Patricia looked back on it, like the dialogue from a very modern parlor comedy. And Andrew looked every inch the hero! But it failed of its purpose of bringing them together, she saw that. Andrew was merely showing her that they had drifted so far apart that it was possible now for them to meet socially without any particular antagonism for each other.

But when she rose to go Andrew offered to accompany her home. "I have something I want to say to you," he told her with a note of longing in his voice.

SICK WOMEN ATTENTION!

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia. — "If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up to never get well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me. In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the Hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is. I will be only too glad to answer letters from anywhere. I wish all sick women would take it." — Mrs. J. A. JONES, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.

HAS GATEWAY TO YOUTH OPENED?

Are we on the brink of a new and fuller life for young and old? Thanks to a recent investigation among our school children, our eyes have been opened to the truth concerning much of the ill health among adults and youngsters. Fully forty percent of our students were shown to be undernourished—victims of mal-nutrition and vitamin deficiency. Physicians have concluded that what our weak, nervous, rundown and prematurely-old adults need is less medicine and more nourishment that will feed the building vitamins.

Doctors and other advanced thinkers are turning to cod liver oil to meet and conquer this evil that is starving the race, and are finding success with it in a new form that is not only easy to take, but contains the health-giving vitamins which our food lacks.

CocoCod, as the preparation is called, is pure Norwegian cod liver oil with the taste of rice-coon. It is amazing how children who rebel at plain cod liver oil gladly accept this wonderful new builder. Mothers are learning that it not only makes youngsters sturdy and strong, but that their own cheeks can be made to bloom with the roses of youth through CocoCod. "Has the gateway to youth opened?" they are asking. Are vigorous manhood and womanhood at last to come into their own? Many thoughtful people think so.

Local druggists who have arranged to distribute CocoCod, as well as our physicians and teachers, have been fully advised concerning its use. Therefore, be sure you are getting the genuine CocoCod, the new, easy-to-take cod liver oil preparation.—Adv.

HUNDREDS DYING IN ALASKA EPIDEMIC

MANY ESKIMOS ARE ATTACKED BY DIPHTHERIA

Serum Being Rushed From Seattle By Rail And Dog Teams

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 29.—The diphtheria epidemic which is sweeping Nome, Alaska, may claim hundreds, according to dispatches received here today by Dr. G. M. Magruder, in charge of the United States Public Health service in this district. Five are dead already and hundreds are dying.

There was no indication given in the dispatches as to just the number of persons suffering from the disease.

Dr. Magruder said a large percentage of the afflicted were Eskimos, who, he said, were particularly susceptible to diseases that have scourged the white race.

Arrangements were being completed today by Dr. Magruder to rush one million anti-toxin units to Nome on the steamer Alameda which sails Saturday from Seattle to Seward, Alaska.

From Seward the supplies will have to be shipped overland and Dr. Magruder was trying today to arrange a system of packing to protect the shipment from freezing as it is carried on dog sleds. Efforts to obtain an airplane in Alaska to carry the serum were unsuccessful and it seemed probable the only method of transportation left will be by dog teams.

The temperature in this region was reported as being 60 and 70 degrees below zero, according to Dr. Magruder.

Included with the anti-toxin which will weigh from 100 to 200 pounds will be material for the Schick test used to determine persons are immune from diphtheria. These persons will be used to nurse the sick and to carry messages in the stricken northern town.

Dr. Curtis Welch, public health service surgeon, is the only doctor in Nome at present and his strength is being taxed to the utmost by the great demands being made upon him.

According to word received by Dr. Magruder, a special health board has been appointed in Nome by Mayor George S. Maynard to carry out the provisions of a strict quarantine.

Every nurse in the town has been pressed into service and volunteer nurses are being asked.

CRUDE OIL TANKS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Toledo, O., Jan. 29.—Fire, which broke out yesterday afternoon at the plant of the Paragon Refining Company here, was believed to be under control this morning.

Seventeen tanks, stills and steamers filled with barrels of crude oil have been destroyed. While company officials were unable to fix the loss definitely, they estimated it would be between $500,000 and $700,000.

SENATORS SUGGEST NAME OF C. C. CRABBE

Senators Frank Willis and S. D. Fess have presented the availability of Attorney General Crabbe of Ohio as a candidate for the position of Commissioner of the State of Ohio.

Haynes is slated for early retirement, according to Wednesday's dispatches.

Haynes is expected to resign soon after March 4, it is said. Little credence is given the rumor that he is to be succeeded by Senator Sterling, a "lame duck" because Sterling, now in his 75th years, says he does not want the job.

Mushing Dogs Racing With Death To Bring Medicine

Anchorage, Alaska, Jan. 29.—Mushing dogs raced against death today.

Through the Arctic night, with temperatures ranging as low as 58 degrees below zero, champion drivers and their picked dog teams rushed from Nenana, on the Alaska railway to Nome with precious life-giving serum to be used in the battle against diphtheria which is threatening to wipe out the far north town.

A supply of anti-toxin furnished by Dr. J. B. Beeson, former Livingston, Montana, and Seattle, Washington, physician, now in Anchorage, was started from here yesterday to stricken Nome and physicians declared should men and dogs triumph over the frozen trails in the race against dread disease, they would arrive in Nome in time to save many lives.

"Wild Bill" Shannon, with nine crack dogs made the first leg of the 1,000 miles journey to Nome in a single mush, covering sixty miles. His time was 12 hours.

Waiting for Shannon at Tolovana was Jim Kalland, another of the north's famous mushers, with a fleet string of dogs and a light Yukon sled.

Kalland will make the second lap of the "death race."

The second lap is over a distance of about sixty miles from Hot Springs up the lower Tanana river. Wireless messages sent along the route to Nome brought a generous response today from scores of drivers who wanted to enter the lists for the suffering men, women and children of Nome. They were eager to risk their lives and dogs in the wild ride over the snows.

Reports here showed many communities had been locked in the grip of a bitter storm for the past two weeks. Temperatures ranged around fifty below zero and falling below that in many places.

The greatest danger to the mushers with their life-giving cargo, will be along the lower Yukon river, where Arctic blizzards sweep across a broad stretch of country, including Norton Bay, the spot where many brave men of the trail have passed out in the grip of the "ice gods."

Among the interested watchers of the race was Dr. Beeson, who gave the serum and who was the hero in 1921 of another famous race with death when he rushed anti-toxin to Iditarod.

When the man replied in the negative, she alleged, the policeman beat her brutally.

DONAHEY WILL NOT SEEK THIRD TERM HE SAYS AT DINNER

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—That Governor Donahey intends to retire from Ohio governorship at the end of his present term and that the Democratic party will probably utilize the tariff as a prominent issue in the presidential campaign of 1928, is the information featured today. This information featured the annual Jackson Day dinner, held by the Franklin County Democratic club at Hotel Desher here Wednesday night.

Addressing the banquet, the governor voiced his intention of refusing to be a third time candidate for the governorship. Other speakers included U. S. Senator Pat Harrison, Mississippi, former Lieutenant Governor Nichols, Batavia; Mrs. Carroll Miller, Pittsburgh; Congressman Brooks Fletcher, Marion and Claude Meeker, Columbus, toastmaster. Vigorous attacks upon the G. O. P. Republican tariff were launched by Senator Harrison and Mrs. Miller.

Reverence was paid to memories of late President Woodrow Wilson and former Governor James E. Campbell. Mention of the name of former Governor Cox repeatedly elicited applause. Governor Donahey received an ovation.

Characterizing the tariff as a cancerous sore that eats away commercial and industrial freedom, Senator Harrison declared it constitutes the keystone upon which rests a moneyed aristocracy that gouges the unsuspecting public.

"Our trouble today is not that the majority of the American people believe in the principles of a protective tariff—in subsidies to special interest or in tax reform that relieves wealth disproportionately of its fair burden of taxation—but the Republican party has sold its materialistic theories to the country and the public, is at this time, deluded and deceived," Harrison declared.

ARCHITECT MAY OFFER PLAN FOR NEW BUILDING

Gas Tax Opposed—Disorder Occurs When Bible Act Is Attacked

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—Plans for speeding up action relative to the proposed new state office building are expected to be made today when the senate committee on state buildings resumes discussion of the resolution of Senator Vorys, Franklin County, providing for creation of legislative committee to work in co-operation with the state buildings commission in arranging for erection of an office building contiguous to the state house.

An architect of national repute is reported by State Auditor Tracy to have interested himself in the project "from the standpoint of art alone, and may propose two plans, one to re-erect the building on the state house grounds and the other on a site nearby. The architect was not named.

Fate of the proposed two-cent a gallon tax on gasoline for motor vehicles will be decided next Tuesday night by the house motor vehicles committee. Motor bus operators, represented by Frank C. Smith, president of the state association of commercial haulers, says they would oppose the bill unless the legislature reduced the state auto license taxes to a flat $3 rate, and fixes a fee of fifty cents per 100 pounds on commercial vehicles. Advocates of the measure said the proposed tax would relieve farmers of the burden of the cost of road construction.

J. F. Atwood, Columbus, representing the Ohio Automobile Association, urged enactment of a flat state auto license fee in addition to the gas tax. Creation of a state bureau of motor vehicles, headed by a commissioner in the secretary of state's office, and enactment of a code regulating operation of motor vehicles is to be proposed to the legislature in a bill now being drafted by Representative Lipp, Hamilton county. The bill will propose that licenses be distributed through county auditors, deputy registrars or auto clubs.

Hisses which greeted a speaker in opposition to the bill providing for compulsory reading of the Bible in public schools drew threats to clear the room from members of the house school committee at a hearing on the bill Wednesday night. The bill is said to be backed by the Ku Klux Klan and farm organizations.

The interruption came when the Rev. H. Maxwell Hall Marietta, was opposing the measure. He told committee members of the co-operation of a Catholic priest in making successful the week day religious system now being conducted in many schools, and warned that passage of the bill would destroy this system. His statements were greeted with hisses.

Representative Orton, Williams county, demanded that the sergeant at arms be brought into clear the room if the disturbance continued. Mrs. C. J. Ott, Youngstown, seconded his motion. The hearing, however, proceeded without further trouble. Another public hearing will be given Wednesday night.

HIT BY AUTO—DIES

Columbus, O., Jan. 29.—Death of I. C. Williamson, address unknown, occurred here early today, soon after he was hit by an auto driven by Louis Miltzer, Brooklyn. Pending identification, Williamson's body is at Denton, Donaldson and Hughes undertaking parlors. Miltzer was being held at city prison for investigation.

BREAD GOES UP!

London Jan. 29.—Mounting prices of England's flour and bread supplies were laid at the doors of the "Chicago gamble" today by the London Express. All London newspapers are featuring the spectacular rise of wheat in the Chicago market, which yesterday reached a peak of $2.05 7-8 for the May position.

E. F. Wise, representing the independent labor party, proposed a government food commission which in turn would create a board of control over wheat imports into England.

NEW MINE WORKERS' ASSOCIATION WILL HARMONIZE INDUSTRY DECLARES LEADER

Charleston, W. Va., Jan. 29.—Form methods will be akin to those of the first time in the twenty-five year old struggle between miners' unions and non-union coal operators in West Virginia, an organization has been born that will harmonize the state's basic industry by affecting wage agreements satisfactory to all concerned.

This statement came from Thomas Cairns, president of the newly-launched Mine Workers Association in an interview with International News Service today relative to the purposes of his organization.

Coal operators, who for a quarter of a century have stoutly resisted efforts of the United Mine Workers of America to unionize the bituminous fields of West Virginia, have been sounded out on the proposal of dealing with the new organization and have expressed themselves in hearty sympathy with it, Cairns declared.

"Our primary object will be to organize the men in the non-union coal fields along lines similar to those of the United Mine Workers and our

FIRE DESTROYS ERVIN MILLING PLANT WITH DAMAGE OF $15,000

Spectacular Blaze Endangers Whole Section of City Wednesday Night—Contents Complete Loss— Adjoining Residence Saved.

Fire destroyed the grain elevator and warehouse of The Ervin Milling Company, Whiteman and Leaman Streets, with all contents, early Wednesday night with loss estimated at more than $15,000.

The big frame structure was enveloped in flames within a few minutes after a small blaze was discovered by railroad trainmen in the section reserved for baled hay in the east end of the building. Before firemen arrived the flames had spread to the center of the structure, where the tower furnished a draft.

With the John T. Barnett lumber yard, a number of residences and the factory of the Xenia Shoe Manufacturing Company, South Detroit Street, endangered by a rain of falling sparks and burning embers, firemen confined their attentions to saving adjoining

On an adjoining house, men with a garden hose, extinguished incipient flames. The superstructure of the elevator building fell within an hour, and firemen began to gain control of the blaze. Burning hay and grain however, constituted a menace all night long. Firemen worked from the time of the start of the blaze about 8 o'clock until 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning and then resumed their work after stopping for breakfast. Although danger had passed Thursday, the remains still smoldered.

Firemen may investigate a theory that the fire was of incendiary origin. C. H. Ervin, head of the milling company which bears his name, has no theory regarding the start of the blaze but does not believe a locomotive was the cause. This is born out by the fact that the first flames were noticed on the inside of the building.

D. E. Martin, Lynn Wilson, Arthur Jones and other trainmen first noticed the light from the fire, which shone through an open door on the east end of the building, and facing the Barnett lumber yard. They investigated and saw the fire burning in baled hay. Martin turned in the fire alarm, but the flames had spread with dazzling speed before firemen arrived.

Trainmen removed all freight cars in the adjoining yards from the zone of the fire. Firemen laid five lines of hose, three of which were used in a constant play on the burning building. Another hose line was used to spray the Ervin home and the house adjoining, while another was played along the eaves of the Barnett lumber yard building. The fact that this structure was brick acted as a bulwark against the flames carrying into the yard, but the eaves constantly caught on fire. A westerly wind also carried sparks away from the lumber yard.

Volunteers who quickly gathered carried all household goods from the Ervin home. Fred Ervin, who has been ill, was at the home of his parents on West Market Street, and was not told of the fire. An asbestos roof aided firemen in keeping the residence from catching but it was so hot that steam enveloped it when it was sprayed with water. Some broken glass in windows and doors, and water damage to ceilings and floors, will constitute loss at the residence.

The blaze was the most spectacular to occur here in years. The flames lighted the scene brightly for more than 100 yards, and the heat was so intense it was impossible to approach close to the burning building. Snow within a radius of fifty yards was melted, and firemen worked at a disadvantage from the heat and smoke. The Barnett building is within twenty feet of one end of the elevator, and in this narrow passage way, firemen did yeoman work. The roofs of the shoe factory and other buildings apparently resisted the sparks that rained on them while the fire was at its height.

Approximately half of the loss on the building and contents will be covered by insurance it is believed by C. H. Ervin, head of the company. The contents included 1,500 bushels of wheat; 500 bushels of corn; 400 bushels of oats; forty tons of mill feed; 150 barrels of flour and 150 tons of baled hay. The building also housed the office of the firm, but books were in the safe, and were recovered from it by firemen after the flames were checked. They were not damaged.

The building is the oldest elevator structure in the county, it is believed. It was originally the property of R. M. Smart, and was known for fifty or sixty years as the Smart elevator. Mr. Ervin, who was formerly associated with his brother in the Ervin Bros. Company and later with Herbert Davis, as Ervin Brothers and Davis, acquired the property about ten years ago. It was of all frame construction, and proved a ready target for the flames.

It is estimated that a crowd of more than 1,000 was attracted to the scene. Many of these volunteered in the work of stripping the Fred Ervin home of every vestige of household equipment. Police took charge of the furnishings in a yard across the street, and after the fire had subsided Patrolman Charles Simms and Ed Craig, marshalled volunteers who replaced all the furniture in the house. This was possible at 9:30 o'clock as the flames had passed their dangerous stage when the building collapsed.

His pulse was 108 and his temperature almost normal. The patient was pronounced free from pain and taking nourishment. The surgical wound was reported "progressing satisfactorily."

DOLAN GOES BEFORE DISTRICT ATTORNEY IN SCANDAL PROBE

New York, Jan. 29.—Albert "Cozy" Dolan, debarred coach of the New York Giants, suddenly appeared on the scene of the baseball scandal investigation today and went before Assistant District Attorney George Brothman for questioning. Dolan, with Jimmy O'Connell, New York Giants outfielder, was declared ineligible by Baseball Commissioner Landis, following the attempt of O'Connell to bribe Heine Sand, of the Philadelphia club to "bear down" in a game with the Giants last September.

TRAINING FOR WAR VETERANS EXPIRES SOON

Thirty Thousand Will Be In Schools When Books Close

Washington, Jan. 29.—Government training of veterans of the world war, whose wounds or disabilities incapacitated them for prewar occupations, is drawing rapidly to a close.

The United States Veterans bureau announced today that by June 30, the last day upon which ex-soldiers may enter vocational training, approximately 30,000 men will be under instruction. All trainees must complete their course by June 30, 1926.

The government has spent $591,494,000 in the training of ex-soldiers, at an average cost of $6,300 for each man.

Over 31,000 veterans were in government and private schools and training in industrial and commercial plants today.

A comparatively small number will be accepted for training prior to June 30, while nearly half of the present trainees will be rehabilitated in the next five months, according to the veterans bureau.

Trainees have been instructed in more than 400 vocations; about half of them studied in the industrial trades while from 7,000 to 8,000 studied law, medicine or other professional work.

Veterans bureau officials estimated that less than ten per cent of the veterans who applied for training were illiterate at their discharge from the army. A large number of the illiterates have been furnished the rudiments of a common school education by the government.

The number of men in training has been declining rapidly since the peak of 109,000 in April, 1922. A comparatively few men will be in training when the system is abolished in June 1926, officials said.

Veterans bureau officials said that no men will be accepted for training prior to June who did not have applications for training or compensation before June 30, 1923. Those whose applications were rejected still have an opportunity to obtain a re-opening of their cases.

Appeals, it was stated, will be acted upon promptly.

Reports to Director Frank T. Hines indicated that the rehabilitated ex-service men who came out of the war partially disabled and virtually a drug on the labor market has "come back" and has established himself as a firm cog in the commercial and industrial machinery of the nation.

Few rehabilitated men have failed to make good. Employment conditions among the rehabilitated ex-soldier were described as far better than a year ago.

JIMMY O'CONNELL WILL NOT TESTIFY IN BASEBALL PROBE

San Francisco, Calif., Jan. 29.—Jimmy O'Connell, the Giant outfielder, intends to spend many months in California's golden sunshine his attorney Joseph McInerney, announced here today.

Jimmy O'Connell has been refused the immunity he demanded by the New York district attorney and therefore will not go East to testify in the probe of the alleged attempt to bribe Heine Sand, Phillies infielder, said McInerney. "Get Cozy Dolan to talk and then you can get all the higher ups and all the boys in this affair. We don't blame Judge Landis. He did all he could in his investigation and was without authority to go further but the district attorney can go further and make a real investigation."

"However O'Connell has no intention of testifying unless a genuine investigation is assured and unless he is promised immunity."

McInerney said in response to a question that O'Connell has nothing new to tell. He said if the outfielder went to New York he would relate the same story he did in his "confession."

O'Connell was hiding at the home of relatives near here today.

TRAINING CAMP ACT BEING CONSIDERED

Washington, Jan. 29.—Whether 29,000 or 35,000 men are trained in the reserve officers training camp in 1926 depends on the action the senate takes on the reserve officers bill now under consideration.

Under the budget estimate $2,300,000 was recommended for training camp activities, but the house, in passing the bill added an amendment which increased the appropriation to $2,807,471. The senate committee on military affairs has also approved the increase but final action has not been taken by the senate.

CENTRAL AVENGES LAST YEAR'S DEFEAT BY BEATING MORAINE PARK HIGH FIVE 30 TO 25

BY L. J. WONES

Central High school basketball team avenged the defeat handed it by Moraine Park High School basketball team last season when on Wednesday afternoon Ballantyne's cohorts journeyed to Moraine City and trampled on the team of that place by a 30 to 25 count.

The game was one of the best played by the big blue team this season. It was sensational from start to finish with first one team and then the other in front. Central displayed poor form in the first quarter but as the game grew older, improved.

Rutan was the high light of the game with fourteen points. He had to leave the game in the last minute on account of personal fouls but his three buckets in the last period won for Central. Perrine played well and was in practically every play. He kicked in with a quartet of rinecas and also added a foul. Holton made one ringer and a foul while Huston and Buell made one apiece from the field. Towles was the only man not to score for Central but he only played about a minute.

Kettering, left forward for Moraine, was the whole works for his five. He scored seven times from the field for a total of fourteen points. Bosler played well and got a pair of felders and one foul. Moraine put up a tight defense in the first half and Central had difficulty in solving it.

Moraine started with a rush when Kettering and Bosler scored from the field soon after the toss up at center. Perrine put his team in the run-

When you clasp your hands with fingers interlocking, do you put your left thumb up? If you do you are left-handed! At least you are naturally so disposed even though you may use your right hand for writing and other manual operations. Prof. June B. Downey of the University of Wyoming in a paper presented before the American Psychological Association, said that fewer people are naturally right-handed than we generally suppose, and that a large number of people who use their right hand habitually do it as a result of early training rather than any instinctive tendency.

Professor Downey has made a study of the distribution of right and left-handedness, or dextrality and sinistrality to use the technical names, and she finds that each exists in varying degrees. To some people, the distinction between right and left seems as natural as between up and down, while others report that they learned the distinction of children with the greatest difficulty. Even in adult life there are many people who find it difficult to quickly distinguish between right and left, as, for example, when driving a motor car.

Another interesting fact brought out by Professor Downey's work is that more men than women are left-handed. However, this seems to be due to the fact that strong right-handedness and left-handedness are more common among men than women, and that women are more inclined to be ambidextrous, or able to use either hand at will.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

INVESTMENT TRUSTS DIVERSIFY

In order to obtain safety through wide diversification, English financiers worked out the investment trust: this type of investment opportunity is now in America.

The English investment trusts have long been used by the small investor as a safe form of investment for his funds. Shares or bonds are sold on as low as $10 (two pound) payments. The funds gathered in this way are invested in a great variety of securities by the skilled investment men of the investment trust.

Each share held in the investment trust represents a fractional shareholding in all of the many, many other enterprises in which the investment trust has reinvested the money.

The Metropolitan Trust Co., Ltd. of London, a concern of this type, had 230 separate sorts of investment a few years ago. This number is undoubtedly greater today. These investments are international in scope and cover every line in the investment field.

Established British concerns paid fair bond and preferred stock rates and their dividends on common stock were often remarkable running up to 30 per cent. Swindlers will use such arguments in trying to sell worthless American shares, so if you are figuring on buying shares in an investment trust company, get the endorsement of your banker.

PARENTS MUST BE BETTER HEAD OF STATE P. T. A. TELLS 400 DELEGATES AT DISTRICT MEET HERE THURSDAY

Special Cars Bring Visitors To Sessions at Central High School—Only Four Men In Crowd—Last Session Thursday Night

BY ALICE FOLEY

Four hundred delegates had gathered by 12 o'clock at the annual conference of the Southwest District of Parents and Teachers at Central High School, Thursday.

The delegations included 200 members of Parent-Teacher and community organizations in Montgomery and 125 women from Hamilton County. Three special cars brought the Montgomery County delegates, from districts around Dayton on the Dayton, Springfield and Xenia electric line.

Much time was exhausted during the morning session while the delegates registered and reported to Mrs. A. J. Barnett, Dayton district director, who presided over the meeting.

Counties included in the district were called alphabetically and one member from each county gave a brief report of the program of the organization in that district.

A short talk by Mrs. J. G. Ruff, state Parent-Teacher Association president, was the main feature of the morning session. Mrs. Ruff declared the Xenia meeting to be the largest district P. T. A. conference she had ever attended in Ohio.

She expressed the belief that people are becoming more interested in associations bringing about co-operation between the home and the school. "The Parent-Teacher organization work is a vital thing," she declared. "I believe that before ten years it will be the largest organization in the United States of its type."

Parent-Teacher associations have been organized in forty six states, Mrs. Ruff said and she gave a brief history of the growth of the organization since its birth in 1897, as the first child welfare organization.

"The national P. T. A. has always sponsored all child-welfare legislation in the past twenty-eight years," Mrs. Ruff told her hearers. "It is a wonderful privilege to belong to the P. T. A. and to be affiliated with the state and national organizations. We must remember, also that P. T. A. work is international and associations have been formed in the far corners of the world, including Alaska, Korea, Japan and the Philippines."

"American parents are awakening to the fact that they must be better parents," declared Mrs. Ruff. "Parents don't mean to say 'no' and 'don't' but it is the easiest way—they just don't know any better."

"Courses are being given in schools over the country where Parent-Teacher work is being taught and credits are given the students who enroll for an education along this line."

"Teachers have had education to help them in their work but the parents have not and they must have to bring about the right degree of co-operation and understanding," she said. "One of the big points of our organization is to study together to bring about better conditions in the home, school and community. And first of all, a better generation of children."

The morning session closed with the reports of the district treasurer and secretary, Mrs. F. J. Unkenhold, Cincinnati, state treasurer, with Mrs.

Lagonda Laboratories Company, Springfield, Ohio

Ruff, was one of the state officers present at the session.

Mrs. E. H. Bierbaum, Dayton led the assembly in singing the Ohio Parent-Teacher Association song.

The heavy snow storm that tied up traffic over the district, did not hinder the women in their trip to Xenia. Of the vast audience, the faces of only four men could be seen.

"Where little children are concerned, women are always out" was the explanation given by one P. T. A. worker, in explaining the interest of the women in the meeting.

TAG SALE SLOW-CLUB DROPS ROOM LEASE

With the big rush for the new 1925 auto tags at an end, the Greene County Auto Club has cancelled the lease on a room in the Hotel Regal, acquired early in January to take care of applicants.

Provision was made at the Hotel Regal to take care of motorists that are non-members of the club, but now all motorists regardless of the affiliations with the club, may get the tags at the club rooms.

Sale of the tags is somewhat slow and nearly 1,300 of the 1925 plates have not yet been disposed of the initial consignment of 4,600.

But three or four motorcycle tags have been purchased and twice that number of auto trailers.

PLUMBING STANDARDIZED Columbus, Jan. 29.—The number of styles of range boilers used in private residences has been reduced to 30 from 130 and the types of "traps"—the piping under the sink which prevents gas from flowing back from the sewer—cut to 70 from 1700, Arthur R. Reynolds, Columbus, stated. Reynolds is a member of the auxiliary committee on standardization, National Association of Master Plumbers, which co-operating with government officials at Washington, D. C., brought about these reductions, it was stated. Reynolds declared that these reductions constituted "a matter of vital importance to every home-builder and home-owner as it means that, when new supplies are needed and repairs are required, the work can be done at a greatly reduced cost to the property-owner."

Discoverer Tells Druggist Not to Take a Cent of Anyone's Money Unless Allenhu Completely Banishes All Rheumatic Pains and Twinges.

James H. Allen, of 26 Forbes St., Rochester, N. Y., suffered for years with rheumatism. Many times this terrible disease left him helpless and unable to work.

He finally decided, after years of ceaseless study, that no one can be free from rheumatism until the accumulated impurities, commonly called uric acid deposits, were dissolved in the joints and muscles and expelled from the body.

With this idea in mind he consulted physicians, made experiments and finally compounded a prescription that quickly and completely banished every sign and symptom of rheumatism from his system.

He freely gave his discovery, which he called ALLENHU, to others who took it, with what might be called marvelous success. After years of urging he decided to let sufferers everywhere know about his discovery through the newspapers. He has therefore instructed Sohn's Drug Store and druggists everywhere to dispense ALLENHU with the understanding that if the first pint bottle does not show the way to complete recovery he will gladly return your money without comment.

Thousands Dangerously Weak After Flu and Grippe

Tells How To Quickly Get Back Needed Strength, Appetite And Vitality.

Reports tell us that in one state, thousands of people are "all too slowly" regaining their health and strength after illness.

Influenza and Grippe are insidious diseases, that nine times out of ten strip their victims of strength, vitality and power to endure any ordinary strain.

Even a heavy cold or a lingering cough may sap a man's strength so tremendously that he desponds of ever being strong enough to go to work again.

People in this deplorable condition should know that the greatest builder of strength in weak, rundown, tired out people is Cod Liver Oil—it's full of the best health building vitamins, as any doctor or chemist will tell you.

But it's loathsome stuff to take—the taste nauseates—no small disgusts and repulses.

That's why millions of people are turning to cod liver oil in tablet form.

That's why physicians and pharmacists in all parts of the country and even in Canada are advising sick, weak, rundown folks to take McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets.

They helped millions of ill, weak, despairing folks last year—they will do the same for millions more this year.

To people who are exhausted or weary—who are languid or indolent—who haven't the vigor or energy or the endurance needed to do their work properly we say—

Try McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Compound Tablets for 30 days—then if you don't say they are the best builder of health and strength you ever used—get your money back from Sayre & Hemphill, H. C. Sohn or the druggist from whom you bought them.

60 tablets—60 cents—but be sure and get McCoy's—the original and genuine.

Accept Right Now Sohn's Drug Store's Offer to Chronic Indigestion Sufferers

One Bottle of Dare's Mentha Pepsin Ends Gas, Bloating, Near Suffocation, Sourness and Gassy Breath or Your Money Back.

Astonishing Sales Amaze Druggists

At last the way has been found to combine Pepsin with Mentha and other corrective stomach agents so that it will do the most good in the shortest possible time.

Why bother with slow actors when one deserts spoonful of the splendid liquid remedy will cause gas, bloating, heaviness, acidity, heartburn or any upset condition of the stomach to speedily vanish.

And why should any man or woman suffer another howl with chronic indigestion or any stomach misery when this grand elixir that acts almost instantly can be easily procured?

But there is more to say about this remarkable remedy—something that will interest thousands of despondent people.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin not only quickly relieves stomach distress, but it also conquers stubborn indigestion, dyspepsia and gastritis, the kind that bothers all day and robs you of needed sleep at night.

Furthermore it puts an end to dizziness, nervousness, headache, sleeplessness and despondency which distressing troubles are nearly always caused by chronic stomach disturbance.

Dare's Mentha Pepsin is pleasant to take, has a delightfully refreshing taste and after it has put your stomach in a clean and healthy condition, just notice how much better you look and feel, for besides correcting stomach disorders this supremely good remedy that Sohn's Drug Store and druggists everywhere are glad to guarantee, is a fine tonic that builds you up and makes you work with vim, eat with relish and sleep soundly.

COLLINS AND HARLAN, AMERICA'S FAVORITE ENTERTAINERS, COMING TO XENIA.

Announcement is made that those amusing singers, Collins and Harlan, are scheduled for a concert in Xenia on the night of February 5th.

Collins and Harlan have earned the reputation of being America's favorite Entertainers, because of their astonishing repertoire of humorous song.

Neither Arthur Collins nor Byron G. Harlan started out to enter their present career! Mr. Collins was going to be an actor. What if his ancestors were all Quakers? That was nothing compared with the longing to make his appearance behind the footlights.

So he left his home in Philadelphia and journeyed to New York—just as they all do. And then he became a successful opera singer, and got a real job with De Wolf Hopper in "Wang." Mr. Collins also appeared in "The Lion Tamer" with Francis Wilson.

It was after that, that he met with Byron G. Harlan and the two decided to combine their talents.

Mr. Harlan is one of those famous people from Kansas. Nearly all the celebrities there are, came from Kansas once upon a time. But Mr. Harlan's family early emigrated to South Dakota, where his boyhood was passed. Unlike Mr. Collins, Byron Harlan never meant to be an actor at all. But he did have a beautiful voice and he decided to go to the great city and cultivate it. In this case the great city was Chicago. And here Mr. Harlan began his stage career with an engagement in an opera company. After that he appeared in "A Texas Steer". Having seen the inside working of a theatre, and having also met Mr. Arthur Collins, Harlan decided he had had enough of being "just an actor."

So he started a company of his own and became a producer himself. The Geyer Book Shop is issuing complimentary tickets to this recital which may be secured at Geyer Book Shop.

SNOW

Two men in Cincinnati Tuesday to attend a convention, revelled in the snow that fell that day.

These men were outside constantly during the snow fall, threw now balls at each other and cavorted like children. A humorist has written that if you still like snow you are alive and are not ready for a Florida winter.

But these men were from Florida. That state of balmy breezes is their home—the place where they make their livelihood. Until Friday they had never seen a real snowfall, and it was the first time they had ever had the opportunity to enjoy the delights of snowballing that are common to every Northern child.

And this may prove the state of never being satisfied that is a part of every man. It is the cause of ambition, industry, commerce, and art and inspires men to greater deeds and more successful accomplishments. And it also supplies that peculiar situation that makes the Northerner long for a warm climate in the winter and the Southerner delight in a snowballing spree in the North.

Snow here has come to be so commonplace an affair, that the average adult only looks upon it as an annoying precipitation that has to be shoveled off the sidewalks but the sight of two Southerners enjoying a snow storm, might cause us to look at the "beautiful" with a proprietary air of proud proprietorship.

BIRDS

Feeding of birds at this time of year is a noble action conceived in a kind heart.

While snow covers the ground, birds are unable to provide for themselves, in spite of their natural industry. Unless they can find scraps on top of the snow, they may starve before the snow passes.

This is not only true of the birds that remain north during the winter but of the early spring birds, that come early to herald the coming of summer.

A few crumbs tossed where the birds can get at them will help to keep these most welcome visitors.

WE WONDER—

"Philosophy," said Plato, "is the child of wonder." So is all scientific progress. Wonder leads us far afield. We observe. We draw conclusions. We act in accordance with our new knowledge. Columbus wondered what lay to the west and discovered the new world. Newton wondered about the fall of the apple and worked out the theory of gravitation. Franklin wondered about the lightning and found electricity in the clouds. Darwin wondered about the forms of life he discovered in the Gallapagos Islands and was lead to the proof of the evolutionary hypothesis.

Last Saturday hundreds of astronomers were engaged in observing and photographing the phenomenon of the eclipse. They hope from their work, especially on the corona of the sun, to get further light on the mysteries of that source of all physical life on the earth.

Of what practical value? Perhaps none. Perhaps very great. We never can know in advance. All we know is that human nature, incurably curious, is driven by an inner urge to seek all possible information in its ceaseless quest to solve the riddles of existence.—Kansas City Star.

BETTER LEAVE IT IN THE BOX

A cable says: "London scientists are mystified by a new form of energy concealed in a sealed box." It may be nothing more than a slab of Limburger cheese.—Marion, Ohio, Star.

NOBODY KNOWS BETTER THAN "PA"

"Ma" Ferguson declares she will take no official orders from her husband, while governor and, if she's like most wives, we believe her.—Martins Ferry, Ohio, Times.

SHOULD HANG THESE IN THE MEDICINE CASE

A new color for women's hose is "arnica." Must be hockey hose.—Bellefontaine, Ohio, Examiner.

HE'LL HAVE TO BUY HIS OWN POLICE GAZETTE, TOO.

A St. Louis report says that men are buying more hats, probably because it's so hard for a man to get his hair cut.—Urbana, Ohio, Democrat.

MONUMENTAL DAYS

Some days are sweet with laughter rare,
Some days are shadowed o'er with care,
Some days indifferently glide
Upon life's evers moving tide
And leave no tokens of their birth
Or passing from this lovely earth,
Yet all that come with smiles or tears
Make up the total of our years.

Some days will never pass away,
We cherish still our wedding day,
And mark it as the happiest one
Of all that since have come and gone;
And there's that day of wondrous grace
We purchased that first little place,
Which proudly we could call our own,
How many years since then have flown!

Then there's the day our child was born,
We've kept the glory of that morn
As bright and fresh along life's way
As though it were but yesterday;
And following that a time of grief,
Which tried but strengthened our belief,
How dearly cherished we have kept
That day of days, when first we met!

These mark our passing through the years—
Our monuments of smiles and tears—
The highest peak to which we've been,
With all the days which lie between;
And thus we see our lives are told,
But these few memories we hold.

Dr. Madden has developed a new fad, that of collecting old fire arms of various makes and designs, relics of bygone days. Although his collection was

Floating Islands
Through correspondence with my readers I find that many women are puzzled about the question of cleaning their furniture. I therefore believe the following suggestions will be found helpful:

To Clean Carved Furniture: A painter's brush with long bristles will remove the dust from the crevices (so will a bellows or a vacuum blower). Wipe the surface carving with a soft cloth wrung out of warm suds of whitesoap, then let dry. Now mix together equal parts of paraffin oil and turpentine and dip your long bristled painter's brush into this mixture. Do not wet more than just the tips of the bristles, however; also remove the surplus moisture from the bristles by squeezing the tips of the brush for an instant with a piece of cloth. Go over the carved portion with this and treat the plain surfaces of the carving with a piece of cheesecloth which is moistened with the same turpentine-oil mixture. Finish by polishing with a piece of clean flannel.

To Clean Dull-Finished Walnut or Oak: Make a suds with tepid water and white naphtha soap. Go over only a small portion of the furniture at a time with a soft cloth dipped in this suds and rub dry with flannel before proceeding to the next place. Finish by applying any high-grade furniture polish on a clean piece of soft flannel, rubbing it in till the wood no longer feels greasy to the touch. (Note: Do not ask me to recommend brands of furniture polish through this column as I am not allowed to mention trade-names for advertising reasons. Your local hardware store will be able to advise you.)

To Clean Rattan, Reed or Willow Furniture: Remove dust by blowing with a bicycle pump, a bellows, or the blower attachment of the vacuum cleaner. If the piece of furniture has finger-marks or with that bluish, cloudy appearance known as "bloom," go over the wood with a piece of fine cheesecloth moistened slightly with a good furniture polish or wrung from warm water which contains one tablespoon each of turpentine and linseed wax.

To Clean Mahogany: When covered with finger-marks or with that bluish, cloudy appearance known as "bloom," go over the wood with a piece of fine cheesecloth moistened slightly with a good furniture polish or wrung from warm water which contains one tablespoon each of turpentine and linseed wax.

Today's Talks

COLOR

I like the psychologists for one good reason anyway, they get people to thinking on topics that they ought to think about.

I have been very much interested in studying the things they say about color and its effect on the mind and human disposition.

Take a flower garden, for instance, who isn't at once lifted in spirit the minute that these little children of the soil offer their smiles of color and cheerfulness. How mutely they appeal!

An oriental rug, a rare tapestry, a painting into which the artist has put his soul, as well as the touches from his fingers and brush. How color warms the heart and takes away the rough edges of our all too uneven dispositions.

Reds, blues, golds, purples, crimsons, and the various different hues that make up our color scheme, how they melt into our daily lives if we only stop long enough to appreciate them and to notice how they are blended into everything of use and ornament.

Poiret once said that a man's tie should be the color of his soul. That would be fine if we could only discover just what color soul each of us has. As a matter of fact, however, I believe that our soul absorbs the colors we love most. If we love beauty greatly we are sure to have a highly colored and beautiful soul.

There should be more color in the places where people work. Offices should be full of color. Cities should have more color to their buildings and more flowers and gardens where ever possible.

It is good that women are such lovers of color. How exquisite they look in their gowns of flowered designs.

God should be thanked every day for the beautiful colors He has put into this earth. Just consider the rare and unusual colors to be found in all the precious and semi-precious stones, in the flowers, the coats of wild birds, in the sunsets.

Put more color into your home and into your heart. For we really see and love color from the heart!

SERVICE RESTORED AFTER FIRE; FIRM RESUMES BUSINESS

Telegraph and telephone communication with Columbus, destroyed when wires fell adjacent to the Ervin Milling Company elevator, destroyed by fire Wednesday night, was restored early Thursday.

Telephone and telegraph poles along the Pennsylvania Railroad, were burned by the fire and a number of wires were down, cutting off communication with Columbus. Train dispatchers managed to notify eastern points before the wires went down, and trains did not pass while the blaze was burning its greatest. Later trains passed the scene under a slow order.

C. H. Ervin, head of the milling company, announced Thursday the company would carry on "business as usual" at the uptown office and feed store of the company. He has not announced whether the elevator and warehouse will be rebuilt.

KINGDOM PLAN AND FAMILY PLAN EXPLAINED BY EVANGELIST IN SERM ON WEDNESDAY NIGHT

The observance of "Family Night" at the special revival services at the First Methodist Church Wednesday evening was a great success. The auditorium was filled. Mr. Sullings was at his best in leading the singing, which was a special feature of the service.

Among the delegations was a Sunday School Class of young women of Trinity Church, whose presence added much to the enthusiasm of the meeting. Dr. Birney had offered a prize to the youngest member of the largest family tribe present. This consisted of the little booklet "The Syrian Guest." A canvasser showed that Lois Jeanette Bradley, of Trinity Church, was the youngest member of the Bradley family, of whom eight were present. She came forward and received her reward. The same kind of a prize was offered to the youngest child present, which was presented to Billy Edward Meahl, about two years old. His parents brought him forward and he received his prize.

One feature of the meeting was the holding of family prayers at the close of the evangelist's message, which was full of earnest appeal. Nearly every one in the large crowd moved forward to the front to join in the family prayers, which were offered by Dr. V. P. Brown and Dr. F. W. Stanton, the pastors of the two churches. Rev. Joseph Shepard, formerly a resident of Xenia, now pastor of the Methodist Church in Antwerp, was a visitor and led earnestly in the opening prayer.

The afternoon meeting was largely attended. Dr. Birney spoke upon "The Holy Spirit—And the Empowerment Church." The message produced a profound impression, and many went away to live better lives.

"The Family Name of God" was the striking theme which Evangelist Geo. Hugh Birney, used at the evening service, brought from the text: "Go ye—Baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit."—Matt. 28:19.

"This text has been used," he said, "with large emphasis upon its foreign missionary appeal, but, in point of fact, it is also the great evangelistic text of the New Testament. It tells us what we are to do, beginning first of all in Jerusalem, then in Judea and Samaria and then unto the uttermost part of the earth. Just now Xenia is our Jerusalem, our home town, our first obligation. Evangelism begins at home. It is first of all a family task. There is something the matter with the zeal that prays and toils for the heathen in China, which does not also seek the heathen next door. Our home altars must burn with a warmth sufficient to attract our own loved ones, else their light will never reach beyond the seas.

"There are two ideas which parallel each other throughout the whole New Testament. One is the Kingdom Plan, while the other is the Family Plan, and they are both essential parts of God's whole plan of redemption, and can never be separated. A false emphasis upon either will throw the whole plan out of gear, and we see the spectacle today of many who think only in terms of the Kingdom plan. They forget that Christ taught that only those who have first become members of God's Family can ever see the Kingdom. First the family; then the Kingdom. The New Birth is the door of entrance into the privileges and blessings of Kingdom service, without which no human soul can enter the Kingdom. We enter as the Sons of God. 'Except one be born anew, he cannot see the Kingdom of God.'—John 3:3.

"Are we members of the Family of God, and have we received the Spirit of adoption whereby we cry, 'Abba Father.' Some of us have had human fathers so loving and kind and true, that their examples have made it easy for us to look above their human attributes and behold our Heavenly Father. But the Holy Spirit will reveal Him to all who believe, in all His wonder and majesty and power and glory, yet at the same time, as our tender, loving, forgiving Heavenly Father. Have you found Him like that? Is He real to you tonight, as real, and more so, than ever your earthly father has been to you?

"The Trinity has been made a great mystery, for it is difficult for us to understand how three persons can be one in three and three in one. But when we think of the Trinity in terms of the Family of God much of the mystery disappears. We know the human trinity—the father, the mother and the child. This is the triangle of life itself. Let us think of the Holy Spirit in this relationship, and reverently understand that, as God first revealed Himself as Father, then as Son, He has now revealed Himself in all His maternal nature as The Holy Spirit. The blessed Holy Spirit gathers up and expresses every maternal element in the Godhead.

Evangelist Birney will speak Thursday night upon the theme "The Tragedy of the Empty House." It is announced as visitor's night, and delegations from over the County are expected at the service.

Program for Friday—2:30 "The Holy Spirit—And The Continuous Revival." 7:30—"The Music Of The Angels." Young People's Night.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

You will find these signed letters, and many more, in the booklet which you will receive.

"Mother's Friend" has been used by three generations of expectant mothers. Get a bottle today and experience the wonderful effect "Mother's Friend" will give you!

WOMAN NEARLY OVERCOME BY FATIGUE

"Bringing up several children in the right way and the responsibilities of a well-conducted home, brought me to the verge of a nervous break-down," said a well-known woman.

"Feeling that I might become ill and have to give up the duties and the cares of my little ones, created a nightmare that was ever before me."

"I told of my afflictions to one of my neighbors and she advised me to get a box of Kath tablets."

"A day or two later when I was feeling unusually miserable, I sent my daughter to the drug store for a box of Kath tablets, and after ten days' treatment I felt like a different person altogether."

"Now I sleep well at night, something I had not done in months before, my appetite is good, and in fact what before seemed like mountains of work in my home is now like play."

Kath is the much-talked-about genuine extract of glands, which gives a new start to the life-giving and strength-building fluids of the glands that are now lying idle or worn-out from over-work, worry, excesses and nervousness.

Kath will give any man or woman increased endurance, strength, pep and build up good, firm flesh within one month or full cost will be returned.

Stop Night Coughing This Simple Way

People who have persistent, annoying coughing spells at night, and who through loss of valuable sleep are weakening their systems and laying themselves open to dangerous infections, can stop their distressing trouble promptly by a very simple treatment. Hundreds who have hardly been able to rest at all for coughing, have gotten their full night's sleep the very first time they tried it.

The treatment is based on a remarkable prescription known as Dr. King's New Discovery for Coughs. You simply take a teaspoonful at night before retiring and hold it in your throat for 15 or 20 seconds before swallowing it, without following with water. The prescription has a double action. It not only soothes and heals soreness and irritation, but it quickly loosens and removes the phlegm and congestion which are the direct cause of the coughing. The result is that you usually sleep as soundly as a babe the very first night, and the entire cough condition goes in a very short time.

The prescription is highly recommended for coughs, chest colds, hoarseness and bronchitis, and is wonderful for children's coughs and spasmodic croup—no harmful drugs. Economical, too, as the dose is only one teaspoonful. It is on sale at all good druggists. Ask for

For a thousand years or more the Chinese people raised pigs for pets. One day Bo-Bo, a great lubberly Chinese boy, as yellow as the yolk of an egg, was smoking corn silks behind his father's barn. Before he knew it the strawstack was on fire and a sow and nine pigs were terribly scorched.

Poor Bo-Bo ran for a river, but he was stopped by one of the pigs running up his trousers leg. He pulled it out and in doing so, scorched his hands. He put his fingers to his mouth to soothe them. My, how fine the burnt pig tasted. He then ran about the lot trying to get the other pigs to run up his trousers' legs.

Soon Bo-Bo's father came running up and noticed how the hair was burned from his son's head, except a small patch on the top. He liked it so well that he had his cut after the same fashion, and soon all China was wearing pig tails.

"Oh, father, the swine-the pet swine! Look out, there comes the old sow after you." And before the father could turn around the old mother pig had her nose up his pants leg. He pulled her away and wads of burning flesh stuck to his palms. Of course he placed his fingers in his mouth. The flesh tasted so fine that he sang for joy. He and the boy then chased the pigs around trying to get them up their trousers legs.

Word went over China about the pig meat being food to eat and soon strawstacks all over China were being burned down. Trouser legs were being made larger to accommodate the pigs. A group of American sailors on furlough in China at that time heard of it and had their trouser bottoms enlarged. And sailors wear them that way to this day.

People finally got wise to the fact that they didn't have to burn down a strawstack to cook a pig. They stove came into its own.

Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29-A resolution was adopted by central labor council Tuesday night denouncing the new international union of building trade carpenters, which was organized at Cincinnati last Saturday. The new union was formed as the result of a long drawn controversy, still being waged between the carpenters and joiners union and the sheet metal workers as to which should set metal and window door frames. This jurisdictional dispute has held up many jobs for nearly a year.

INSTITUTE WILL BE HELD IN FEBRUARY AT SPRING VALLEY

Keen interest is being shown in the Independent Institute to be held at the auditorium of the new Spring Valley High School, Tuesday and Wednesday, February 3 and 4.

C. L. Peterson is the institute president, H. M. Thomas, secretary and treasurer and Mrs. William Jobe, correspondent, and with these people in charge, the success of the institute is thought assured.

The speaker on the program will be J. F. Gordon, Jamestown and Mrs. Geneva Steiner, Wapakoneta, Auglaize County. O. M. Gordon needs no introduction to local rural audiences and Mrs. Steiner is a graduate of the Chicago School of Civic and Philanthropy and her experience enables her to look upon modern rural problems at a different angle from those who usually discuss them.

The program also provides plenty of good music. A large crowd is expected to attend each session.

Wednesday evening, the Welfare Club will present "A Poor Married Man". The play will give ample opportunity for wholesome fun.

On the first morning of the institute from 9:30 to 10:30, the Spring Valley Township schools will have charge of the program which will consist of a piano solo, vocal solo, monologue, two short talks by High School pupils, two selections by a high school double quartet, selections from the high school orchestra and a spelling match by pupils from the grade schools of Sugar Creek Township.

Athens, Jan. 29-The Athens County Automobile Club, with a membership of more than 1,000 and growing fast, has taken a stand in favor of the proposed two cent tax on gasoline, the proceeds to be used for maintaining highways. Cincinnati, O., Jan. 29-A resolution was adopted by central labor council Tuesday night denouncing the new international union of building trade carpenters, which was organized at Cincinnati last Saturday. The new union was formed as the result of a long drawn controversy, still being waged between the carpenters and joiners union and the sheet metal workers as to which should set metal and window door frames. This jurisdictional dispute has held up many jobs for nearly a year.

YESTERDAY'S JUNIOR PUZZLE ANSWER

BRINGING UP FATHER

The Husband Tamer by VIOLET DARE

WHO'S WHO AND WHAT'S HAPPENED.

PATRICIA CLEVE has become estranged from her husband.

ANDREW CLEVE, who lives only for his business and expects her to give up everything to entertain his clients. She rebels and visits her sister, and he goes abroad. She is thrown with.

GREGORY HEWITT, a famous financier to whom her husband has introduced her, who falls in love with her, and whom she cannot ignore because of the help which he can give her sister's husband.

TODAY'S INSTALMENT.

XLVII—A STRANGE MEETING.

"I THINK you ought to know," Patricia confided to Clayton Gillespie across the massive desk in his New York office which he hadn't graced for many months. "That I have been deceiving you all along. I'm not a widow. I'm not even divorced. My husband is living and I saw him only a few days ago."

VIOLET DARE

asked reaching over to pat her hand and betraying no surprise. "How did you know?" gasped Patricia.

"Old people have a way of seeing things," he assured her. "Don't worry about your harmless little lies to me. You must have worries enough. Tell me about your husband. Are things going any better now?"

"Worse," Patricia assured him ruefully.

"Then we must do something at once. It isn't right for you young people to spend the best years of your life in petty squabbling. Put on your prettiest frock and come to dine with me tonight at the Plaza. Perhaps I can think of a plan by that time."

Patricia smiled at him gratefully and a little tolerantly. Old people were so apt to think that they could fix everything.

But when she arrived at his apartment at the Plaza and saw the table set for three in the glow of the open fireplace, saw the great bunch of orchids and smilex that trailed across the table hiding the ugly uncompanionable expanse in the middle, she admitted to herself that he must have some very special plan in mind.

"And who is our other guest?" she asked eagerly as Gillespie came forward to greet her.

"Sh—," he cautioned her mysteriously. "Go in the other room and wait until he has arrived. You must be the last to come. After he has been here a few minutes, you can come out of the hall door and make your entrance all over again. Here take your wrap."

Amused by his elaborate plans—whatever they were—she went into the next room, but as she was idly powdering her nose her attention was arrested by a voice in the next room—Andrew's voice. Her heart thumped and for a moment she thought she would run away. But finally she mastered her courage and went toward the door.

"All of my philanthropic interests are now in her hands," Gillespie was saying as his manservant preceded her into the room. "But I thought you might advise her about some young lawyer who could take over the details of the work. Possibly you might even undertake it yourself—" His voice trailed off, as the men turned to greet her.

"Oh, you know each other, of course. How stupid of me. Then let us get right down to business and get it over with before dinner. Will you explain, my dear, what we are trying to do and how much we need a lawyer to advise us? I have just asked Mr. Cleve to suggest some one to take over the work, that is if he feels that he does not care to undertake it himself."

Flushing to the roots of her hair, Patricia began. Then gaining courage by the sound of her voice and the sympathetic presence of Gillespie, her self-consciousness left her and she found herself describing quite gaily the duties of trusteeship in so many organizations.

As she glanced over at Andrew, perfectly-poised and perfectly self-possessed in this odd situation, Patricia couldn't help feeling proud of him. He was so dignified, so aloof.

He listened to her intently and then put her off with few gracious phrases. It would take him a few days to decide and then he would communicate with her and Mr. Gillespie.

The dinner that followed sounded, as Patricia looked back on it, like the dialogue from a very modern parlor comedy. And Andrew looked every inch the hero! But it failed of its purpose of bringing them together, she saw that. Andrew was merely showing her that they had drifted so far apart that it was possible now for them to meet socially without any particular antagonism for each other.

But when she rose to go Andrew offered to accompany her home. "I have something I want to say to you," he told her with a note of longing in his voice.

HAS GATEWAY TO YOUTH OPENED?

Are we on the brink of a new and fuller life for young and old? Thanks to a recent investigation among our school children, our eyes have been opened to the truth concerning much of the ill health among adults and youngsters. Fully forty percent of our students were shown to be undernourished—victims of mal-nutrition and vitamin deficiency. Physicians have concluded that what our weak, nervous, rundown and prematurely-old adults need is less medicine and more nourishment that will feed the blood and nerves with strength-building vitamins.

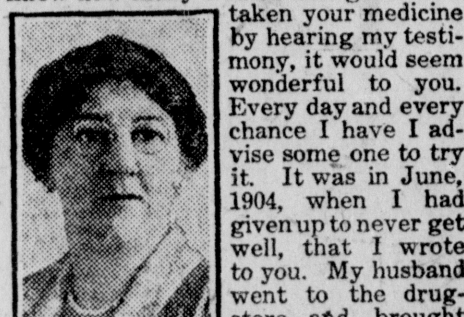

Doctors and other advanced thinkers are turning to cod liver oil to meet and conquer this evil that is starving the race, and are finding success with it in a new form that is not only easy to take, but contains the health-giving vitamins which our food lacks. "CocoCod," as the preparation is called, is pure Norwegian cod liver oil with the taste of rich cocoa. It is amazing how children who rebel at plain cod liver oil gladly accept this wonderful new builder. Mothers are learning that it not only makes youngsters sturdy and strong, but that their own cheeks can be made to bloom with the roses of youth through CocoCod. "Has the gateway to youth opened?" they are asking. Are vigorous manhood and womanhood at last to come into their own? Many thoughtful people think so.

Local druggists who have arranged to distribute CocoCod, as well as your physicians and teachers, have been fully advised concerning its use. Therefore, be sure you are getting the genuine CocoCod, the new, easy-to-take cod liver oil preparation.—Adv.

SICK WOMEN ATTENTION!

Read this Remarkable Testimony Regarding Results from Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Norfolk, Virginia. — "If you only knew how many women and girls have taken your medicine by hearing my testimony, it would seem wonderful to you. Every day and every chance I have I advise some one to try it. It was in June, 1904, when I had given up to never get well, that I wrote to you. My husband went to the drug-store and brought the Vegetable Compound home to me.

In a few days I began to improve and I have often taken it since. I am now passing through the Change of Life and still stick by it and am enjoying wonderful health. When I first started with your medicines I was a mere shadow. My health seemed to be gone. The last doctor I had said he would give me no more local treatments unless I went to the Hospital and was operated on. That was when I gave the doctors up. Now I am a healthy robust woman. I wish I could tell the world what a wonderful medicine Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is. I will be only too glad to answer letters from anywhere. I wish all sick women would take it."—Mrs. J. A. Jones, 317 Colley Avenue, Norfolk, Virginia.
